

RETIREMENT OF MICHAELIS IS IN DOUBT

BY UNITED PRESS
LEASD WIRE TO TRIBUNE
BERLIN (via London), Oct. 25.—Kaiser Wilhelm has not yet made his decision as to the chancellorship. The German press today is filled with exhaustive discussion of the whole cabinet crisis with varying guesses as to the outcome. The Kaiser, it was stated, is studying the situation in detail and does not desire to continue the decision between Chancellor Michaelis and various political groups longer than necessary. The newspaper Tagische Rundschau today asserted that Chancellor Michaelis does not regard his resignation as required by present conditions.

Despatches yesterday from London quoted a Wireless Press despatch from Amsterdam as stating that Chancellor Michaelis had tendered his portfolio to the Kaiser. The above despatch, direct from Berlin, would seem to confirm this report.

CABINET UNSATISFACTORY
PARIS, Oct. 25.—The press receives with anything but enthusiasm the report of Premier Painleve to escape from his difficulties by the change in the foreign portfolio. It is not expected that the present cabinet will remain in power for any great length of time and on the part of many it is not wished for.
The premier apparently does not intend to appoint another minister of state in place of J. Louis Barthou, who was appointed foreign minister, so that the ministry will be reduced from nineteen to eighteen members.

VOTE ON BUDGET
AMSTERDAM, Oct. 25.—The Dutch lower house, according to Vienna dispatches, has passed the third reading of the provisional budget, not for six months, as the government demanded, but for four months. Authority to raise a loan of nine million kronen was voted 227 to 170.
The minister of finance deplored statements made during the debate, which he said were the outcome of a strange and hostile point of view that must be repudiated by the government.
"We maintain our loyalty toward our allies," the minister declared, "especially Germany. Even though we are all suffering very heavily under the calamities of war, we are convinced that we can only assure our own future and our children's future by bravely holding out until the longed-for peace arrives."

TO TALK PEACE
AMSTERDAM, Oct. 25.—The Dutch anti-war council announced that among the Germans who will participate in the international conference at Berne on questions relating to a league of nations will be Dr. Eduard David, socialist leader of the Reichstag, Edward Bernstein, Dr. Karl Wilhelm Wolfersheim, and Philip Scheidemann, socialist members of the Reichstag; Dr. Bernhard Dernburg, former German colonial secretary; Professor Forster, Prince Alexander Hohenlohe-Schillingensaur and Professor Theodore Niemeyer.

MAY MAKE PAPER
LONDON, Oct. 25.—Tests recently undertaken by the Imperial Institute concerning the suitability of wattle-bark for the manufacture of paper, have been highly successful. A good quality of brown paper has been made from the bark discarded by tanners. This paper bleaches readily to a cream tint and has been pronounced suitable for newspaper purposes, and with further treatment may make serviceable writing paper. Several large paper mills, it is announced, are now proceeding to confirm the experiments conducted by the Imperial Institute.

JOHNSON QUILTS
CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., Oct. 25.—A telegram received here from Ben Johnson, president of the American Baseball League, announced that he has positively resigned his position and accepted a post in France with America's fighting forces. No information was given as to the character of the work but it is thought probable that he will be connected with the intelligence department.
Johnson was to speak at the Rotary service dinner here tonight. His telegram announcing that he had been called to report immediately for duty cancelled this engagement.

DINK O'BRIEN ILL
SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 25.—Frank (Dink) O'Brien, local catcher, who finished the season with the Hutchinson (Kansas) Western League club after being released by the Giants, is very low with typhoid fever. O'Brien was taken ill Sunday night, but it wasn't discovered that he had typhoid until yesterday, when he was taken to St. Luke's Hospital.

Rotary Club Men Patriotic Invest $487,050 in Bonds

Subscriptions totaling $290,300 by members of the Rotary club, were announced today at the President's luncheon of the organization, when George S. Meredith, president, rendered the report of members investing in the second Liberty loan. This makes a total of $487,050 invested by the organization's members to date in the two loans issued by the government.
Today was a "military luncheon" throughout. The speaker of the day was Rev. A. W. Palmer, who told of his experiences while in the officers' training camp at the Presidio. Palmer told principally of the need of protection of the soldiers from vice, gambling, and drink, to which, he declared, men in the army are more than usually liable through the monotony of their lives.
The speaker told of the soldier's life in the world today, "but what it will be when it gets to France, where regulation of liquor is different is a grave question."
He declared that the tendency to gamble is great in the army, and that the men, seeing novelty from the drill and army routine, fall easy prey also to vice.
"It is a fact that 500 of the Pershing expedition were found suffering from disease in France," he said. "And in one cantonment a place is set aside for soldiers to be sent to the hospital."
Soldiers in Europe spend specially susceptible.

WILSON REPEATS SUFFRAGE IDEAS

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25.—Speaking as a party leader and as an individual, President Wilson today urged the woman suffrage issue upon the members of all states. He told a delegation of 100 members of the New York State Woman Suffrage party that he hoped their campaign would be successful and urged men of all parties in New York particularly, to vote for suffrage.
The President, addressing the suffragists, said:
"It is with great pleasure that I receive you. I esteem it a privilege to do so. I know what difficulties you have been working under in New York state, so clearly set forth by Mrs. Whitehouse, but in my judgment those difficulties cannot be used as an excuse by the leaders of any party or by the voters of any party for neglecting the question which you are pressing upon them. Because, after all, the whole world now is witnessing a struggle which goes deeper and touches more of the foundations of the organized life of men than any struggle that has ever taken place, and no settlement of the questions that lie on the surface can satisfy a situation which requires that the questions which lie underneath and at the foundation should also be settled and settled right."

FUNDAMENTAL QUESTION.
"I am free to say that I think the question of woman suffrage is one of the questions which lie at the foundation.
"The world has witnessed a slow political reconstruction, and men have generally been obliged to be satisfied with the slowness of the process. In a sense, it is a process that should be slow because then it is solid and sure, but I believe that this war is going so to quicken the convictions and the consciousness of mankind that the speed of reconstruction will be greatly increased. And I believe that just because we are quickened by the questions of this war we ought to be quickened to give this question of woman suffrage our immediate consideration."
"As one of the spokesmen of a great party, I would be nothing less than obeying the mandates of that party if I gave my hearty support to the question of woman suffrage which you are raising. I would want to speak merely as one of the spokesmen of a party. I want to speak for myself, and say that it seems to me this is the time for the states of this union to take this action. I perhaps may be touched and moved much by the traditions of our politics—traditions which lay such questions almost entirely upon the states—but I want to see communities declare themselves quickened at this time and show the consequence of the quickening."

APPROPRIATE STAND.
"I think the whole country has appreciated the way in which the women have risen to this great occasion. They not only have done what they have been asked to do and done it with ardor and efficiency, but they have shown a power to organize for doing things of their own initiative, which is quite a different thing and a very much more difficult thing. I think the whole country has admired the spirit.
"It is almost absurd to say that the country depends on the women for a large part of the inspiration of its life. That is too obvious to say, but it is depending upon the women, also for suggestions of service which have been rendered in abundance and with the distinction of originality."
BEGGS NEW YORK.
"I therefore am very glad to add my voice to those who are urging the people of the great state of New York to set a great example by voting for woman suffrage. It would be a pleasure if I might utter that advice in their presence. Inasmuch as I am bound too close to my duties to make that possible, I am glad to have the privilege to ask you to convey that message to them."
"It seems to me that this is a time of peril. All our principles, all our hearts, all our purposes are being searched—searched not only by our own consciences, but searched by the world—and it is time for the people of the states of this country to show the world the practical sense they have learned the lessons of democracy, that they are fighting for democracy because they believe in it and that there is no application of democracy which they do not believe in. I feel, therefore, that I am standing upon the firmest foundations of the age in bidding Godspeed to the cause which you represent and in expressing the ardent hope that the people of New York may realize the great occasion which faces them on election day, and may respond to it in noble fashion."

TOUR WAR ZONE
LONDON, Oct. 25.—Ten American Congressmen have arrived in London for an official tour of the war area. A number of former Congressmen also are in the purpose to visit the battlefields in France and some of them will go to Italy.
The members of Congress in the party are Parker of New Jersey, Taylor of Colorado, Johnson of Washington, Goodwin of Arkansas, Stephens of Nebraska, Timberlake of Colorado, Dill of Washington, Hicks of New York, Miller of Washington and Dale of Vermont.
The former Congressmen are Messrs. Stout of Montana, H. W. Patton of Washington and R. L. Hammon of Nebraska.

PLEA WITHDRAWN
The application of Alan Atkins to invest $50,000 in the Liberty Bonds was withdrawn. An application recently made to Judge Wells by the same party for a similar purpose, was denied, and it is believed the present application was withdrawn for the reason that the judge had not changed his position in the matter. Judge Wells holds that it is inexpedient to tie up the estate of minors in long-term securities.

TO DEDICATE WINDOW.
The Ackerly memorial window placed in Saint John's church, Elgin and Grove streets, by its parishioners and friends as a memorial to its founder and first rector, will be dedicated Sunday at 11 o'clock, the birthday anniversary. The sermon by the Rev. Mr. Ackerly, the rector, will bear upon the career of this noble servant.

Rev. Benjamin Ackerly was for nearly forty years identified with St. John's Episcopal church and Oakland. He died August 27, 1897, and at the time of his demise was minister of the church.

Father Ackerly was a familiar figure of early Oakland. When he began his ministry here he announced services by lacking notice on the great oaks from which the city took its name, and this window, representing the Good Shepherd, will be an appropriate reminder of the loving priest who strived and succeeded so well in exemplifying his Master in daily ministrations.

REV. KAVANAGH LECTURES.
Rev. D. J. Kavanagh, S. J., of the University of Saint Ignace, will deliver a lecture entitled, "Back to Christ," at St. Mary's church, Elgin and Grove streets, Tuesday evening, November 6. There will be a small admission fee. The lecture will be given at 8 o'clock.

WAR LOAN MAXIMUM IN SIGHT

BULLETIN.
NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—New York's Liberty Loan committee today wired Speaker Champ Clark demanding that he explain a statement made in Oklahoma City last night in which he alleged that New York financiers are trying to defeat the second Liberty Loan. The action followed an indignation meeting in which the most prominent bankers in the country took part.
WASHINGTON, Oct. 25.—All indications at noon today were that the Liberty loan had passed the $3,500,000,000 mark. Reports to the Treasury Department state that the entire nation is aroused to the highest patriotic fervor and in the same spirit continues the five-billion-dollar goal will be reached by Saturday night.

NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—That "terror of terrors" to the Germans—the British tank—fresh from European war triumphs, "snaked its way" along Fifth avenue today. It was the crowning feature of New York's monster Liberty loan parade.
Second from the standpoint of interest was the German U-boat brought to New York to stimulate Liberty loan subscriptions and on exhibition in Central Park.

PORTLAND, Ore., Oct. 25.—Oregon passed its minimum Liberty loan allotment of $16,500,000 today.
Twenty-three Oregon cities have oversubscribed their quota. One town has practically doubled its allotment. The state will easily pass the maximum allotment of $18,000,000 and probably roll up a substantial oversubscription, campaigners expect.

TABOO OF SONG AROUSES SCHOOL

BERKELEY, Oct. 25.—The militant spirit of "La Marseillaise," which has electrified men of all nations with its call "aux armes," has touched off the combustible enthusiasm of the students of the Berkeley High School as an aftermath of the incident in Tuesday, when Principal Ottilia Abendroth, teacher of French, ordered her class to remain seated while singing the air.

Today the storm centers around Principal C. L. Biedenbach, who is credited with having given the order. He has vented the martial war-song of America's ally from being accorded the recognition of the "Star-Spangled Banner." Now there is talk of a student publication to voice student protest against the episode and other matters which members of the various classes say should be given the spotlight of investigation at the hands of the Board of Education.

To add fuel to the flames, when the class remained seated at yesterday's session, Mrs. Louise Narjot Howard, another teacher of French, refused to obey the mandate, but stood until the song was ended. A discussion over French history, French customs and French patriotism between Mrs. Howard and Principal Biedenbach, in which Mrs. Howard was alleged to have been criticized for certain freedom of utterance and the word "revolutionary" was bandied about with all the abandon of a Russian parliament session, has not spread out on the ruffled waters.

The parents of the students, too, have taken a hand in the situation. They want to know all about the "Marseillaise" episode and who gave the order. Principal Biedenbach says he gave no such order. Miss Abendroth declares she is patriotic and leaves the inference open that such an act would be the last thing she would think of doing. The students say they sat down and Mrs. Howard stood up, and that everybody is very much excited about it.
The episode shows every indication of an intention to "march" until some heavy additional blood has been shed in the furrows of a new order of things. Members of the student body declare today that they are considering drastic action to make their side of numerous discussions which have disrupted the peace of the school for some time known.

RECOGNITION OR STRIKE: PHONE GIRLS

Complete tie up of the telephone service of the entire Pacific Coast can be averted only by the recognition by the company of the telephone operators' union. The last city of any size was included in the strike when the action of the operators on the Oakland exchanges in applying for a charter.
According to an announcement from President E. S. Hurley of the Oakland Electrical Workers' Union, applications for membership from telephone operators in Alameda county have been coming in hourly all day. The charter application is already on its way to International headquarters at New York.
Representatives of the organized girls' unions in Oregon and Washington went into conference today with Morimer Fleishacker, unofficial government mediator, and a committee representing the 3500 electrical workers who have already threatened to strike. Just what the outcome of the conference will be is speculative. Fleishacker was scheduled to leave for Washington late this afternoon.
President John Morganthaler of the Pacific Council of Telephone employees stated in San Francisco today that girls of the various exchanges affected were organizing and unless they were recognized by the telephone company as a unit, matters would come to an issue on Saturday night.

"Such women in increasing numbers are acquiring the merest trace of the by applying the wax at night as they would cold cream, washing it off in the morning, they secure and maintain entirely natural complexions. Their faces exhibit no evidence of having been beautified. Nothing is added to the old complexion—the latter, instead, is discarded. ## SUFFER AIR LOSS

LONDON, Oct. 25.—Two hundred and seventy-four German airplanes were shot down by the British in September, according to General F. B. Maurice, director of operations, today. In the same period the British lost forty-six machines.

"The British air service," he told the United Press, carried out 226 bombing raids in September, dropping 7886 bombs, totaling 135 tons. The enemy, in the same length of time, dropped one thousand bombs on us. Our artillery-directing planes directed 7964 shots against 1313 German batteries. The Germans only ranged on 743 batteries."

What is the most economical cooking fat?

When you step into your grocer's you find different shortenings—quoted at different prices. You may want to know which is the truly economical shortening.

The prices don't tell.

Some shortenings will go much farther than others.

For instance:

Many careful housekeepers have found that Cottolene goes very much farther than other shortenings which they had been using.

The reason?

It is very much richer.

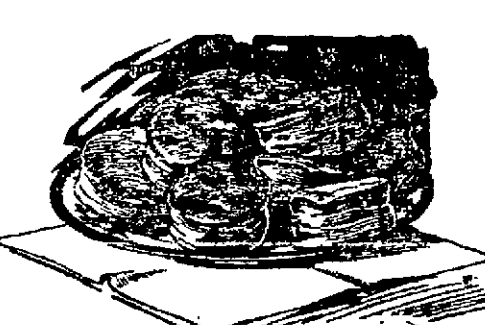

Cottolene contains no water. It is always uniform in quality.

You will find, too, that pure, economical Cottolene gives to biscuits, cakes, pies and fried tid-bits a delicate flavor that even expensive butter might well be proud of.

The unusual richness of wholesome Cottolene makes its economy a true economy.

In baking, use one-third less of Cottolene than you have ordinarily used of other shortenings.

Remember that the next time you order from your grocer. Remember, too, that he can supply Cottolene in tins of convenient sizes.

Recipe for BAKING POWDER BISCUIT
Into two cups of sifted pastry flour sift and mix one level teaspoon salt and two rounded teaspoons baking powder; chop in one level tablespoon chilled Cottolene. Wet to stiff dough with 3/4 cup half water and half milk. Rolled 3/4 inch thick and cut with 2-inch biscuit cutter this recipe will make about a dozen biscuits.

TWO TRAGIC AUTO DEATHS ARE PROBED

The coroner's office is busy today investigating two deaths, victims of automobile accidents in the bay district during the last twelve hours. John Goldring, a laborer, was struck at San Pablo avenue and Dwightway in Berkeley by a machine driven by James C. Colburn, 27, of the Conroy. Charles Kleinoff, a Crockett lad, was killed before his mother's eyes at Fifteenth and Clay streets by a machine driven by G. A. Jackson, 27, Fifty-third street.

Goldring, 73, resided with his son, Daniel Goldring, and his daughter-in-law at 852 Forty-fifth street, this city. He was a laborer employed at the Sunlit Fruit Company's plant in Berkeley. The Conroy started his machine across Dwight way at San Pablo avenue, the old man, it is declared, stepped directly in front of it. He was hurled violently to the ground, sustaining a fracture of the skull. Conroy took him in his machine to the Roosevelt Hospital, where he died at 5 o'clock this morning.

The death of Charles Kleinoff, aged 7 years, was particularly tragic. With his mother, Mrs. Leo Kleinoff, and a neighbor, Mrs. A. M. Tatchman, he had come to Oakland from Crockett earlier in the day. The party went to the test station at Fifteenth and Clay streets to have the automobile lights tested. The lad, seeing he was unwatched, darted into the street. Mrs. Kleinoff saw Jackson's limousine bearing down upon the child and screamed. Before she could be brought to a halt, however, little Charles had been struck, two wheels grinding his head into the pavement and crushing the skull. Jackson took the boy to the Central Emergency Hospital, but he was dead upon arrival.

Blue Bird Bureau

A young woman and an old woman met in the Blue Bird Bureau. The old woman, her face wrinkled but her eyes bright and determined, was seeking housework, or employment caring for children. The young woman, neatly dressed and bright looking, was seeking to find a woman who would care for two children. It seemed to be one of those happy accidents bringing people who could aid each other together.

The two stepped to one side to talk over terms.

"I can show you in a few days what there is to do," said the young woman. "It will not be hard. There is only a small house, and my husband and the two children to look after."

"But will you not be there?" asked the elder woman.

"No, I'm going away," the younger said hesitatingly.

"No, for good."

A look of puzzled surprise came into the wrinkled face. She did not say anything, but there was something about her which led the other to over-come her embarrassment, and speak.

"I live in—" she said. "It is dull and tiresome there, but that is where my husband works. And I don't think I am suited for house-keeping and being just a wife, and all that sort of thing. I want life."

"Life?" interrupted the elder.

"Yes—some of the excitement and joy of living. I guess I wearied my husband talking about it. He is a kindly man, and at first he reminded me of the children. But at last he said: 'If you will get somebody to care for the house and the youngsters, some woman I can depend upon, I will not try to stop your going. Maybe you will find it's not what you expect. But you must find that out yourself.' That's what I'm going to do. And I think you'll do."

There was a silence. Then the older woman put her hand gently on that of the other.

"Don't decide too quick," she said. "I need the work, and I think this is just the place for me. But I'd rather give it up than see you make a mistake. Don't decide too quick."

"When you're young life seems to beckon. You want to go out. But when you're old like me, you know that a home and children may bring worries and trials and weariness, but that they are what count in the end. Think it over, and if you are still of this mind in a few days, I will take the place."

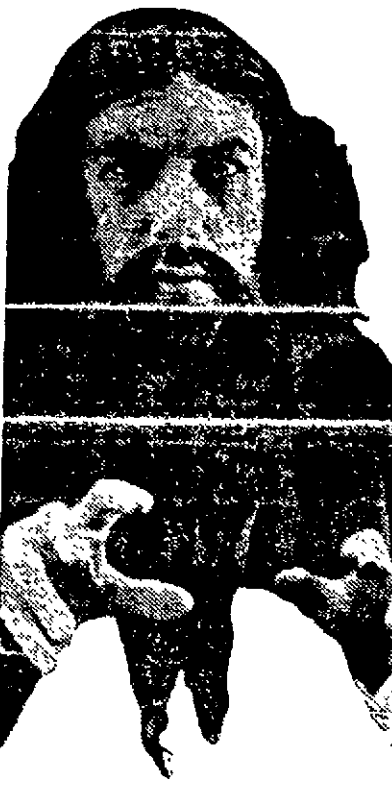

The days passed by, but the young woman did not come back. Then came a note. "I'm going to try to stay with it," it said.

The older woman has since found employment. In fact there are more calls for employment of this character for women nowadays than there are applicants for positions.

The Blue Bird Bureau has received a package of clothes from a Good Fellow in Pittsburg, Contra Costa county, and several other packages of clothes. Acknowledgment and thanks in behalf of those who are given.

Sometimes ago a request was made for a wheel chair for an invalid. So far no response has been made.

"Black Monk" Is Weird Story in Latest Films

RASPUTIN

Worldly fascinating is the famous story of "Rasputin, the Black Monk," appearing on the screen at the American Theater, now and until Saturday night. Featuring the historic downfall of the Russian empire, which brought about the crisis in the world war, and the subsequent abdication of the despotic Czar because of the intrigues of Rasputin, the story is eventually dramatic.

Rasputin (pronounced Rahn-poo-teen) whose leadership of the out of pleasure and passion made him the evil genius of the world's most spectacular royalty, and exalted him to a position where women who came under his magic spell adored him, is a figure which historians for ages will confound with. His dynamic force and tremendous power caused the blackest crime of the age, namely the attempt to sell the Russian people into the bondage of Germany.

Other features of the program include the latest Mutual Weekly, a Sidney Drew comedy, the Liberty Parade pictures and a special musical score by John Wilbury Lewis and his orchestra.

Drugs reported the alleged holdup to the police today, charging that the men had committed grand larceny in securing the money. He said the men had visited his store late Monday night, but that he had not reported the matter before because they had threatened that if he informed the authorities they would return with their friends and wreck the place.

How Players

Oakland's second week of all-Orpheum vaudeville has proved even more auspicious than the first. The present week's program has proved to be one of the most remarkably-balanced and interesting assemblages of artistry that the Orpheum circuit has offered in recent years.

There is comedy and high art, and there is beauty, there are thrills galore in the most remarkable animal act staged—a drama in which live lions take part with actors—there is "The Night Boat," one of those scintillating gems John B. Hymer writes at rare moments, and which, with Orpheum producing, becomes one of the masterpieces of variety. There is "Sally," Lilian Lane, the Colonel Diamond, the Grand Old Man of the Dance, and with him is his pretty granddaughter. He is a better dancer than the average man, and is a better dancer than the average man.

George March's Jungle Players open with a motion picture in which the audience is prepared for the striking climax of a novel story, when the curtain goes up and the scene in the jungle is before the eyes of the audience in real life.

The second episode of the Battle of Armes shows in film actual fighting and is even more wonderful than the first of the great English war pictures.

The Jordan Edwards and his artists, Kitner, Hawksley, and McClay and an orchestral concert under the direction of Leon Kozalski round out the bill.

COMEDY IS WELL FEATURED AT PANTAGES.

"Tagalog" bits run into comedy, when Alexander Pantages can get the right kind of comic acts—for comedy, he believes, is the first of the most interesting and the most popular of the theater-going public. This week's bill at the Oakland Pantages is no exception—it is crammed full of laughs, but he has managed also to put through a few bits of high art and a very great mystery into the same bill.

There's the "Maid of the Movies," whom everybody knows. She is a noted motion picture star—the third to come over the circuit—but unfortunately the motion picture she is under contract to did not let her appear under her own name, and so she just calls herself the Maid of the Movies.

"Miss America" is a brilliant melange of song and dance, with pretty girls galore, sprightly music and gay scenic effects.

The De Mabele Brothers are the funniest comedy musicians in the world. They rely not on musical comedy, but on their own notes for their laughs. The violinist of the two is a superb character-actor, and never for a moment deviates from the ludicrous part he plays simultaneously with his fiddle.

Chester Gruber is a comedian with an act so different from the usual vaudeville affair that one would never know it.

"The Girl from Starland" opens the bill. The Fighting Trail rounds up the bill.

"RASPUTIN" IS FILM THRILL AT AMERICAN.

"Rasputin," the "Black Monk" of world-wide interest and significance is being presented at the American Theater. Beginning with the resolution of the monk to show his disregard for the moral code of the world, he is shown in a series of scenes, for which he was dismissed from the village of his birth, to his rapid rise to power in Petrograd where he became the powerful factor of the Czar's despotism, and was adored by the court ladies because of his leadership of a wicked cult of passion and pleasure, the picture is a revelation.

"Rasputin, the Black Monk" is intensely dramatic, romantic and historic in every aspect. Historians who are now making a study of the events at the Russian court have been baffled because of the numberless intrigues in which its members were involved, all of which emanated from Rasputin. Rasputin, the evil genius of Russia, ruled with an iron will until his tragic death and the ruin of the Romanoffs, which he brought about.

HIPPIDROME PLAYHOUSE OFFERS NOVELTY.

Paul Byron, recently engaged leading man with the Hippodrome Players, will give his first big opportunity to the world when he plays the role of "Louis Neville," the artist in "The Common Law." Byron made his debut in "The Hole in the Hoof," and became a great favorite.

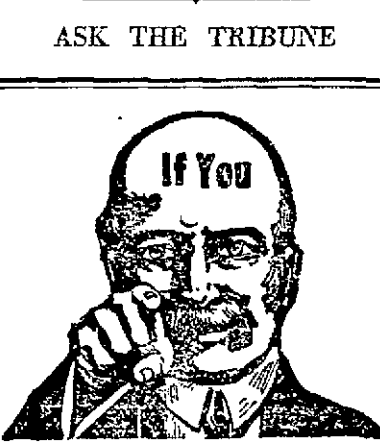

The role of the artist will be better suited to Byron's type and he is expected to score heavily as the care-free youth who is willing to risk fame, family and fortune to marry the girl of his choice.

Byron is a very capable actor and made his first Oakland appearance last summer. His last appearance here was with Richard Carle in George M. Cohan's "Kerue of 1918" in which he carried the juvenile role.

"The Heir to the Hoof" comes from the pen of Paul Armstrong, and contains a wealth of comedy roles handled by Virginia Thornton, Frank Cooley, Gladys Kirsburg, Roy Hawk, Clayton Smith, Rupert Drum, Chauncey Southern, Charles King, Harriet Clark, Margaret Blugent and Howard Nugent.

CHARLIE CHAPLIN IS STAR AT FRANKLIN.

Charlie Chaplin's name suffices for it stands for the best of the highest class. The only time Charlie shows the speed enough to get a breath is when the picture is over. He has reason for swiftness, for he has just escaped from the prison, the guards are searching for him, and he doesn't intend that they shall take him. Finally driven into the sea after a perilous game of dodging along the coast, he swims alongside of a boat in which a bath is trying to shed his sweater. Charlie dons the bathing suit and emerges at the beach just as pretty

WILL FIGHT TO VICTORY, SAY LEADERS

LONDON, Oct. 25.—Great Britain's determination to fight on until German militarism was crushed was emphasized today by Sir Edward Carson, head of the war aims committee at Portsmouth and by Lieutenant General Jan Christian Smuts, Privy Councillor at Sheffield, where they addressed meetings under the auspices of the war aims committee.

Sir Edward Carson said the war had entered the phase where the question with Great Britain was "whether we are going to prove superior in sticking power to the Germans and our other enemies." He added that Great Britain could not and would not consider any peace without the concurrence of her dominions. Neither would Great Britain enter into peace negotiations behind the backs of her allies.

General Smuts said that to his mind there was only one great dominating war aim, "the end of militarism and the end of standing armies."

Admiral Sir John Jellicoe, first sea lord, declared: "The war is all but won. We have only to set our teeth and the war will be won."

Referring to the submarine warfare, he said that the figures of September were good, but the figures for October would not be so good.

UNIT IS ORGANIZED

ALVARADO, Oct. 25.—The Alvarado unit, Councils of National and State Defense, was organized yesterday by Miss Mildred Mauerte as local chairman. The unit was formed by Mrs. Frederick C. Turner, chairman of Alameda county woman's committee, following the board meeting in San Lorenzo. Members of the executive board of the County Council of Defense were entertained at a conservation luncheon by the San Lorenzo unit, following the noon adjournment.

ENVOY WELCOMED

TOKYO, Oct. 25.—Roland S. Morris, the new American ambassador to Japan in succession to the late George W. Guthrie, arrived here today. Morris was welcomed at Yokohama by the staff of the American Embassy and by the members of the American Association.

Jolly Stella Mayhew and Her Company Stir Mirth

HENRIETTA CROSSMAN, who will be seen at the Macdonough Theater in "Erstwhile Susan."

Stella Mayhew has certainly won a place in the hearts of Oakland theater-goers, if one may judge from the attendance at the Macdonough this week, where the funniest star on the American stage and her big company keep their audiences in the continuous uproar of laughter.

Stella Mayhew and her company, including her garden of hilarious girls and wonderful "jazzy" orchestra, will be the attraction at the Macdonough to and including Sunday night. Popular priced matinees will be played Saturday and Sunday.

Henrietta Crossman, who is sure of a cordial welcome in Oakland, comes to the Macdonough on Monday evening for an engagement of three days. A matinee will be given on Wednesday. Miss Crossman will appear in Marian de Forest's new comedy of "Erstwhile Susan." The play received the highest commendation from the New York critics and public. The appearance of Miss Crossman, which is always one of the dramatic treats of the season, in the field of high comedy, is a brilliant addition.

Miss de Forest has founded her play upon Helen R. Martin's novel "Barnabette," though she has woven into her dramatic texture many threads from Mrs. Martin's other stories of the Pennsylvania Dutch, and her own imagination in building up the dramatic situations.

The story concerns the whimsical adventure of Susan Miller, an eccentricist from Iowa, who marries a tight-fisted, narrow-minded Pennsylvania Dutchman, Barnaby Broom, with the altruistic idea of bringing some life, kindness and happiness into the drab little community in which Broom, and his daughter, Barnabette, live. The untidy, headless condition of Barnabette stirs her sympathy and sense of justice, and through this interest her mother love is gradually awakened. The heroine brings much wit, adroitness and initiative to the accomplishment of her task, and at last succeeds in making Barnabette with the man she loves.

"Watch Your Step." Irving Berlin's international symphonic musical success, will come to the Macdonough next Thursday night, November 1, for a limited engagement of four nights and a Saturday matinee.

It is a typical modern musical comedy in which there is some beautiful costuming on the part of the ladies in the cast and chorus, plenty of burly-up music sung and danced, a number of specialties, a semiballet, and a plot and a story line. The principal players are: Valli R. Martin, Helen P. Delaney, Mabel Sherman, Tracy Elbert, Fred Willbrand, Harry Van Posen, Charles Uffel, Arthur Uffel, Frank Coombs, I. S. Carpenter, Harry Langton and twenty-four of the prettiest girls that have ever traveled with a musical organization.

PET LIONCUBS

Oakland boys and girls will have the experience of their lives next Saturday. It's not often that they have the opportunity of making friends with two of the outmost, prettiest little lion cubs in the world—little fellows scarcely larger than the pet cat at home, gentle as kittens and desiring above all things else to be petted.

The opportunity is Saturday afternoon at the matinee at the Orpheum. George Merck, the celebrated lion tamer and producer of the wonderful spectacle "The Wild Guardians," in which he uses a mamma and papa of the two pet cubs, has promised Manager Harry Cornell that the children will be introduced to the little children of animal land. Every child will be invited to pet the soft, furry little prince and princess of the jungle. They will be carried down into the audience for everyone to meet personally.

The little fellows are not of age by a good deal, according to the standards of animal land. They still live on milk. Behind the stage, they are great pets with everyone who starts to stage hands. They will be the pets of the matinee children Saturday at the Orpheum—and they enjoy that best of all. So will the children whose parents take them to the big show.

SCHOOLS AID FUND

A social tea for the benefit of the Armenian and Belgian children will be given by the girls' Y. W. C. A. of the Oakland Technical high school, tomorrow afternoon, at 3:30 o'clock. The teachers and the girls, while knitting, will be entertained by music furnished by Joy Holloway, Margaret Avery and Josephine Holub.

The proceeds from the ten cents admission that will be charged is to be given to the relief societies.

The Fremont high school Dramatic Club will produce "Spreading the News" in the high school auditorium tomorrow night for the purpose of raising money for their Belgian relief fund. The leading roles are played by Vidori Larsen and Gladys Jensen. Others in the cast are Loretta Peters, Vera Hahn, Howard Roberts, Fritz Stenzel, Carl Deitz, Stanley Holmes, Stanley Nicholas.

LION'S CLUB HOLDS LUNCHEON

Members of the newly formed Lion's Club, an organization similar to the Rotary clubs of the United States, met today at Hotel Oakland for their first luncheon. Plans were discussed for a vigorous membership campaign. F. H. Woodward presided.

BOATS NOT LATE

Commuters who travel by the Key Route boats and who chanced to be late in reaching their places of employment yesterday, could not truthfully blame their tardiness on the fog, for there was no delay occasioned in the schedule of the Key Route boats. The boats made their regular service schedule, although there was a report that because of the density of the fog a forty-minute schedule had prevailed in the early hours of the day.

MAN BEATEN, ROBBED

With a bruised lip and under the influence of liquor, the police say, Walter S. Webb of Fifth and Clay streets, appeared at the Emergency hospital early this morning complaining that he was held up, beaten and robbed by four men in Harrison park. He claimed to have lost $12.

PLAN WATERWAYS

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25.—Plans for greater utilization of navigable rivers to relieve railroads of war strain soon will be entrusted to a waterways commission of seven members to be named by President Wilson. This commission will be asked to give special consideration to encouraging transportation of heavy freight by barges on the principal waterways to relieve harbor congestion at seaboard terminals, and to developing water power quickly for war purposes. Ultimately the commission will prepare a program for extensive government action on waterway improvement and for co-ordination of various Federal, State and private enterprises.

THREE INDICTED

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 25.—As the result of a two-week probe of alleged graft and vice conditions at Venice, four indictments are standing today against three men of that city—Edward A. Gerey, former mayor and now a member of the Board of Trustees; C. Y. Burns and J. E. Crouch, former city officials. All are charged with bribery. The action grows out of a vice probe that unexpectedly bared an alleged $50,000 shortage in the Venice city treasury.

JAIL WOMAN

During a row in the Olympia saloon at 1751 Seventh street early this morning, Herman Kirks, a negro, was attacked and slashed on the left arm with a knife, wielded by Mrs. Margaret McDory, a negress. Kirks was treated at the Emergency hospital and Mrs. McDory arrested. She is being held on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon.

CLEW TO BURGLAR

Well defined finger prints, left on the bathroom walls in the home of Mrs. L. Morse, 417 Forty-ninth street, by a burglar early this morning have been reproduced and are under the scrutiny of Inspector Harry Caldwell, expert for the police department. It is believed that the clews will lead to the apprehension of the burglar, who failed to obtain anything of value in the house.

Mrs. M. Fennon of 515 Cottage street reported to the police today that her home was entered by a burglar, who carried away a quantity of jewelry and silverware.

treated at the Emergency hospital and Mrs. McDory arrested. She is being held on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon.

Honest Advertising

THIS is a topic we all hear now-a-days because so many people are inclined to exaggerate. Yet has any physician told you that we claimed unreasonable remedial properties for Fletcher's Castoria? Just ask them. We won't answer it ourselves, we know what the answer will be.

That it has all the virtues to-day that was claimed for it in its early days is to be found in its increased use, the recommendation by prominent physicians, and our conscience that its standard will be maintained.

Imitations are to be found in some stores and only because of the Castoria that Mr. Fletcher created. But it is not the genuine Castoria that Mr. Fletcher honestly advertised, honestly placed before the public, and from which he honestly expects to receive his reward.

Genuine Castoria always bears the signature of Dr. J. C. Fletcher

GRIZZLIES ARE MOVED TO KEARNY

CAMP KEARNY, San Diego, Oct. 25.—The Second California field artillery, known as the "Grizzlies," arrived from San Francisco late last night and were given quarters on the south side of the camp near the main entrance. A number of prominent Californians are members of this unit.

The Third battalion of the Seventh California Infantry, totaling 475 officers and men, from Arcadia, also detrained with these units and will be housed in barracks near the main entrance.

Battery B of Oakland, accompanied by "Louise" and "Asphodel," the pet mules and "Vic," the official mascot, arrived in the "main camp" safely and six hours after unloading was completed and they had all the comforts of home in their new location.

The move from Arcadia was made in good order and in record time, the entire equipment being loaded and taken off the field in about 35 minutes. The anticipated delay in moving the pet mules was overcome by Stable Sergeant Layton, an unexpected member of the unit. At the first attempt to entrain the pets they refused to be led and insisted on backing up. Sergeant Layton thought the matter over, then reversed the mules and pulled the other way, with the result that they slowly backed themselves into the car. Once the car landed in Camp Kearny the mules were turned over to their previous owners, and are gone and forgotten.

NEW CAMP REFLECTS.

Considerable difference exists between the last camp at Arcadia and the present home of "Paterson's Battery." All of the main streets of the enormous camp are paved, the tents are equipped with wood floors and wired with electricity. Mess halls are equipped with the latest style of refrigerators and gas stoves, as well as being electrically lighted. Excellent shower baths have been provided. The Y. M. C. A. has established several recreation rooms at various points throughout the camp and more are being installed to care for the rapidly growing requirements of the camp.

Immediately after the battery had landed and established its camp there was a rush of curious men anxious to see the four guns of the "Cub" battery, which occupies a camp not far from that of Battery E. It was the first view the majority of the men of the battery had obtained of a field piece and there was an interested and enthusiastic audience gathered about the gun crews that were working on the piece.

WOULD EXHIBIT GUNS.

Corporal Kennedy's financial genius asserted itself as usual and his first move on entering the new camp was to attempt to make a deal with the top sergeant of the "Cub" battery whereby he could get the exhibition rights to the guns and charge members of the new batteries ten cents a head for looking them over. The deal fell through.

Lieutenant Waddell rejoined the battery on its move to the new camp, much to the delight of the men of the battery.

Special to THE TRIBUNE.

Tuberculosis is the cause of fully 10 per cent of the rejections from service of the drafted men who are received here from the Western states, according to the examining physicians who are endeavoring to weed out the physically unfit men and sending them back to their homes. In this California has a slightly larger percentage than the other states. Carelessness of the examining physicians attached to the exemption boards is a matter for daily comment. In several cases the physicians have found tubercular cases with both lungs affected. Poor eyesight and failure to make the minimum weight are also causes of many rejections.

A call for 300 officers for the air service of the signal corps was posted today. These men will not be trained for actual flying, but as school and squadron adjutants and supply officers. Only officers of the highest qualifications will be accepted.

Intensive training of the recruits is expected to start within a week. The transfer of the men from the depot brigade to the active division began today.

A fund of $10,000 for the amusement, contentment and entertainment of the men is being raised in the San Francisco district for the 363d regiment, according to Captain C. E. Quibrey, regimental adjutant.

Skilled players of American football are to be utilized by Uncle Sam in teaching recruits how to put jazz into bayonet fighting. Cy Noble, the famous Washington halfback, has arrived here to head the staff in bayonet instruction. He has received his own training in the drill at Fort Sill, Oklahoma.

County Need More Than Million Daily Big Bond Drive Is at the Final Stage

Alameda county increased its Liberty bond investments by $750,000 yesterday and today, bringing the grand total hovering close to the six million mark.

But the goal is ten millions. And only three days remain in which to raise this amount.

How about you, Mr. and Mrs. Citizen?

Have you placed your dollars back of the flag? Have you become Uncle Sam's partner?

Last night Oakland banks experienced the first heavy night business. Tonight and tomorrow night the business is expected to double and triple.

Alameda county will make good its ten million. This is the confident expectation of the Liberty loan committee.

Impetus to the closing days of the drive will be given tomorrow when the civic and commercial organizations, headed by the Chamber of Commerce, will launch the "Where's your button?" campaign.

From one end of Alameda county to the other men and women will ask each other "Where's your button?"

Superior Judge William S. Wells was one of the heaviest investors in Liberty bonds yesterday, acting as personal trustee for Josephine M. Johnson, now a resident of Napa. Judge Wells entered his subscription for the bonds through three local banks.

The Standard Oil Company invested $50,000 in its apportionment for Alameda county and $15,000 for its employees, while the Southern Pacific Company sent its check for $50,000 to a local bank for the purchase of Liberty bonds.

WAGE-EARNERS BUY BONDS.

Significant of the success of the big drive is the manner in which the wage-earners have responded. More than $30,000 was invested in a few hours by office clerks and outside employees of various corporations.

The office of the San Francisco-Oakland Terminal Railway at Twenty-second and Grove streets scored 100 per cent. From the office and elevator boys to the heads of departments every employee bought a bond. George Deley, the salesman, brought in subscriptions to the amount of $5750. The meeting was arranged by Frank Frost, auditor and treasurer of the company.

Thirteen out of fourteen men at the Elmore car barn bought bonds to the amount of $700. Sixteen men of the central car barn bought bonds to the amount of $1300.

The largest investment made by wage-earners was at the National Mill and Lumber Company, where 173 men invested $10,750. Forty-three employees of the Graham Manufacturing Company at Newark subscribed to bonds in the amount of $2850. Men of the Connors-Hall Company at Niles bought $2400 worth of bonds. Sixty per cent of the employees of the Oakland California Towel Company invested $1800. The wage-earners of the Atkinson Mill and Lumber Company purchased bonds to the extent of $850. The East Spring Bed Company men invested $600; Hunt Lumber Company employees subscribed $550 and the workers at the Empire Foundry Company $350. The company itself purchased bonds in the amount of $300.

BOY SCOUTS' CAMPAIGN.

The Boy Scouts of Oakland, in their "bell ringing" campaign, have secured subscriptions to the amount of $68,000 during the past three days. Troop 27 heads the list with $13,500 to its credit, while Troop 14 is second with $12,150.

"Tilt the Kaiser" is a new game to be introduced in Oakland tomorrow noon. In the City Hall Plaza an effigy of Kaiser "Bill" is being erected inside a tent. The player is given three baseballs and pays 10 cents for the privilege of "swatting the Kaiser."

FRENCH PLAN LOAN.

PARIS, Oct. 25.—Minister of Finance Klotz today presented to the budget committee of the Chamber of Deputies and the senate committee of the Senate an outline of a proposed new loan, which will be limited to 10,000,000 francs. The bonds are to be issued at 4 per cent interest, in order not to load the market too heavily with securities of the same type as the preceding loans at 5 per cent. The new loan will be exempt from taxation.

OLIVER BRINGS SUIT.

Joaquin S. Oliver is suing Charles L. Koerner for $20,000 for injuries resulting from being struck by the defendant's automobile, as a result of which he claims he was confined to the hospital for five months. The accident occurred at East Twelfth street and Third avenue in 1913.

CLEW TO THIEF.

BERKELEY, Oct. 25.—A complaint that sacks from the El Dorado Oil works, Second street and University avenue, had been stolen by the police this morning. A suspect was named to the police and warrant for his arrest will be issued.

local manager of the company today. Berkeley is allowed $7000 and Alameda $3000.

Oakland's newsboys—two hundred and fifty strong—have been drafted into the Liberty loan "where's your button" closing "drive."

Tonight the newsies will march in a body to the Municipal Auditorium, where they will be the guests of the Liberty loan committee at a "big feed." The boys will parade the city's streets prior to going to the auditorium, headed by a jazz band.

BAD BREATH

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets Get at the Cause and Remove It

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel, act gently on the bowels and positively do the work. People afflicted with bad breath find quick relief through Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. The pleasant, sugar-coated tablets are taken for bad breath by all who know them.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets act gently but firmly on the bowels and liver, stimulating them to natural action, clearing the blood and gently purifying the entire system. They do that which dangerous calomel does without any of the bad after effects.

All the benefits of nasty, sickening, griping cathartics are derived from Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets without griping, pain or any disagreeable effects. Dr. F. M. Edwards discovered the formula after seventeen years of practice among patients afflicted with bowel and liver complaint, with the attendant bad breath.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are purely a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil; you will know them by their olive color. Take one or two every night for a week and note the effect. 10c and 25c per box. All druggists.

BOY SCOUTS WIN.

The Oakland Boy Scouts have raised their total Liberty loan subscriptions to $159,000. Yesterday's "drive" netted the boys $22,250. Of this amount $50,000 was the investment of the Chevrolet Motor Car Company of California, credited to Troop 21, as well as $1000 from the Chevrolet employees. In addition to these two large subscriptions the scouts turned in 228 subscriptions, netting $27,350 for the day.

Junior Liberty loan campaign headquarters have been established by the scouts at the Oakland Chamber of Commerce. A staff of typists and clerks, embracing six young women loaned by the H. C. Capwell Company, is kept busy day and late at night checking up the flood of subscriptions that the Oakland Scouts are gathering.

INVESTS $20,000.

The Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company has purchased $20,000 worth of second Liberty loan bonds through local banks. "This is Oakland's pro rata of the $5,000,000 subscribed by the nation," the telephone and telegraph company and associated companies forming the Bell system," said John D. Holmes.

Nashua, N. H.—"I am nineteen years old and every month for two years I had such pains that I would often faint and have to leave school. I had such pain I did not know what to do with myself and tried so many remedies that were of no use. I read about Lydia E.  Blessed relief from corn pains is simple as A B C with "Gels-It."

 "Gels-It" has revolutionized the corn history of the world. Millions use it and it never fails. Ladies wear smaller shoes and have pain-free feet. We old fellows and young fellows forget our toes and feel frisky as colts. Everybody with a corn or callus needs "Gels-It." We will all walk about and enjoy ourselves as we did without corns. ## Get the Habit of Drinking Hot Water Before Breakfast.

Says we can't look or feel right with the system full of poisons.

Millions of folks bathe internally, now instead of loading their system with drugs "What's in it for you?" you say. Well, it is guaranteed to perform miracles if you could believe these hot water enthusiasts.
 There are vast numbers of men and women who, immediately upon arising in the morning, drink glass after glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it. This is a very excellent health measure. It is intended to flush the stomach, liver, kidneys and the thirty feet of intestines of the previous day's waste, sour bile and indigestible material left over in the body which if not eliminated every day, become food for the millions of bacteria which infest the bowels, the quick result is poisons and toxins which are then absorbed into the blood stream.
 Attacks, foul breath, bad taste, colds, stomach trouble, kidney misery, sleeplessness, impure blood and all sorts of ailments.
 People who, good one day and badly the next, but who simply can't get feeling right are urged to obtain a quarter pound of limestone phosphate at the drug store. This will cost very little but is sufficient to make anyone a real crank on the subject of internal sanitation.
 Just as soap and hot water act on the skin, cleansing, sweetening and freshening, so limestone phosphate and hot water act on the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels. It is vastly more important to bathe the inside than on the outside, because the skin pores do not absorb impurities into the blood, while the bowel pores do.—Advertisement.

My kidneys have acted irregularly and then my back has ached so badly I could not bend over and a sharp twinge would catch me when I did stoop. ## Mills College Campus Is Prepared For "The Piper"

MISS FRANCES MERRY, who will take the part of Barbara in "The Piper" to be played tomorrow by Mills College students.

Play Depicting Scenes of Thirteenth Century to Be Given Tomorrow to Aid War Fund

The campus at Mills College today presents a scene of mediaevalism in final preparation for the presentation of "The Piper" to be given in a setting of a mediaeval town tomorrow afternoon under the oaks on the campus. A most elaborate plan of decoration and building and entertainment is to be carried out, presenting in picture and costume and play, the period of the thirteenth century. Street entertainments will be given, continuously, on the market place, and many articles will be offered for sale to increase the fund for war relief.

Enlisted men will be admitted to the grounds free of charge. All the foodstuffs to be placed on sale have been made by the college girls under the direction of Miss Mary Vall of the home economic department. Careful consideration has been given the Hoover pledge in the manufacture of these articles.
 The Market Place opens at 1 o'clock and "The Piper" will be staged promptly at 3:30 o'clock. Groups of dancers, strolling singers, jugglers, players and musicians will keep a continuous performance going in every quarter of the campus from the time the market opens till it closes. Music for the dancers and singers will be furnished by violin mandolins, triangles, banjos and guitars. A group of 40 singers will render leader songs and there will be soloists in the song and dance. A group of 12 girls in peasant costume will give the dances of the period. One of the most interesting features of the street entertainments is the Noah's Ark Miracle Play to be presented from a traveling wagon, as in the thirteenth century.

CAST IN "THE PIPER"
 Josephine Preston Peabody's "The Piper" will be staged under the direction of Miss Marian L. Stebbins and Mrs. Jessie Davis Nahl. The cast includes: The Piper, Miss Mabel Wilcox; Barbara, Miss Frances Merry; Veronica, Miss Dorothy Heitman; Michael, Miss Mary Barnett; Gurt, Miss Margaret Long; Cheaf the Devil, Miss Ruth Schleuter; Jacobus, Miss Marie Podrasknik; Claus, Miss Rosa Lind Cassidy; Ursula, Miss Dorothy Calif; Axel the Smith, Miss Josephine Haldeman; Peter the Cobbler, Miss Ada Beveridge; Hans the Butcher, Miss Doris Dozier; Wife of Axel, Miss Alice Palmer; Wife of Hans, Miss Pauline Simons; Wife of Martin, Miss Elizabeth Cockcroft; Jan Edith Stebbins; Rude, Aya Stoppani; Hansel, Leonard Lindsey; Lise, Marjorie Nahl.
 The scenery of the production is creating considerable interest. The stage is in three parts to suit different developments in the play. The work is a combination of the realistic and suggestive. Ken Weber a pupil of Max Reinhardt has designed the scenery which will be executed under the supervision of Otto Schuchman.

BOGGS IS MAKING GOOD AS BIRDMAN

After going through the Monterey Training School in 1915, entering the Reserve Officers School at the Presidio, and gaining his chance to study aviation, Miss Boggs, Oakland youth, is again in line. This time, however, there will be no ship. His friends say he will become an officer.
 News arrived here from the San Diego aviation training school that Boggs is now flying alone, having practically completed the aviation training course.
 Boggs, who is the son of Edward M. Boggs, civil engineer and designer of many of the Oakland street railway lines, "burned his bridges behind him" when, although sure of a commission by staying in the office, he accepted a commission to enter the aviation school. He is not to return to the training camp, he went through Major Arnold Krosgstad's class in Berkeley with flying colors, however, was sent to San Diego, and now is in line for his commission.
 There is considerable talk at the San Diego camp at the present time, as General Somers visit there is supposed to precede announcement of commissions.

NO FAMINE IN SUGAR IN WEST

Householders and others who purchase large amounts of sugar and hoard it at the present time are placing an unnecessary strain upon the railroads handling shipments, and are not benefiting themselves, according to experts of the Western Sugar Refining Company. There is no likelihood of a sugar famine, or large sugar shortage in the Western States, a circular issued by the two concerns states. It is explained that the possibility of a shortage here is precluded by cane sugar arrivals from Hawaii, supplemented by the heavy beet sugar output of the Western States.
 Wholesale handlers of sugar and wholesale candy manufacturers and candy retailers in the bay region have called a meeting for tonight at the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce to discuss the situation. No official orders have been received by the local manufacturers to cut down in their operations.
 "All the warnings concerning the sugar famine said to be confronting the country emanate from the east," says the circular issued by the big sugar concerns. "The western part of the country is in a far more favorable position at the present time. There are numerous beet sugar factories and two refineries. All these plants are producing sugar in large quantities, more than is needed by the local market. There is no need for local consumers to hoard sugar, as there is an abundant supply of material on hand."

WASHINGTON Oct. 25.—The American Sugar Refining Company is beginning to move 200,000,000 pounds of Louisiana cane sugar northward to relieve the sugar shortage in the Eastern States. The sugar was contracted for yesterday. The refinery paid $18,000,000 for the sugar, or approximately 6 1/2 cents a pound. After allowing for transportation, middlemen, and other expenses, this will mean a price to the consumer of 8 cents a pound.
U. R. R. DESIRES REPAIRS.
SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 25.—The United Railroads filed an application with the Railroad Commission today for permission to expend $311,000 from their depreciation fund to rehabilitate rolling stock and right-of-way south of Market street.

REPRESENTATIVE KAHN.

Representative Julius Kahn of San Francisco received Tuesday evening signal honors from the city which has sent him to Congress. Not only did San Franciscans assemble at the banquet table where the leading citizens of his district were gathered to do him honor, but representative citizens from other districts and other States were present. And from communities not represented in person messages came showing the nation-wide appreciation of the service Mr. Kahn has rendered the country.

Mr. Kahn during the last session of Congress became conspicuous as one of the ablest and most effective leaders of Congress, and especially of the lower house. The administration, although Democratic, has recognized the power of the Republican member as a spokesman for Americanism and the defense of the country, a fact to which President Wilson has attested in warm messages of praise. The attitude of Mr. Kahn, while not a surprise to those who have known him well, is no less noteworthy because he was born in Germany, the country with which the United States now is at war. He is a splendid example for all classes of loyal citizens and of the spirit in which the hyphen may be happily eradicated.

When the Democratic chairman of the Military Affairs Committee of the House declined to report the selective draft bill and to pilot it through the House, it was Mr. Kahn, the ranking Republican member of the committee, who stepped into the breach and voluntarily took charge of the administration measure. In this way he showed his colleagues that partisanship in the present emergency must disappear in words and deeds. He gave a lesson not only to the national law-makers, but to the whole country, on how to live and act for America first.

Representative Kahn has served his country as a member of Congress for nineteen years. In this period he has led many efforts for the country's benefit. Among the later ones was the fight to get the 1915 Panama-Pacific International Exposition for California. But always he has put America and California above every other consideration.

Not always do the people recognize the merit of their public servants. But the tributes to Mr. Kahn since his return from Washington prove the exception. The California member has become a national figure because of the sheer value and force of his patriotic efforts, all of which reflect to the credit of this State and gives an additional cause for satisfaction among all the people on the Pacific Coast.

RESPONSE OF THE STUDENTS.

Vassar College at Poughkeepsie, New York, is little different from the average young women's college, or the men's colleges and co-educational institutions for that matter, throughout the country. Rather is it to be considered as a typical American institution of learning for purposes of observing the influence of the war. We refer to it at this time merely because the report of its president has just been received. Says this report:

"Immediately upon the outbreak of the war the student body at Vassar College took a census of its own personnel and investigated the kinds of special useful work which the students might be able to perform in war time. This information is held at the college and will be available in case of any immediate need. Courses for preparedness were immediately established under the management of a committee of the Students' Association and in consultation with the president."

These courses, with the numbers attending, were as follows: Household economy, 96; motor repair, 70; typewriting and stenography, 121; bookkeeping, 8; cataloging and filing, 22; practical relief visiting, 20; home nursing, 110; first aid, 113; and surgical dressings, 80. Thus, out of a total enrollment of 524, there were 640 registrations for training in useful wartime work—some of the students taking two war courses. These new studies were taken up without any loss whatever in attention to the traditional courses of the college. On the contrary, the president reports, the regular work was continued with unusual energy and good spirit on the part of instructors and students. And so faithful ful was the attendance upon these courses and so profitable the instruction received, that the students at the end of the year were eager to see the experiment continue in the following year.

As stated above, this report is typical of the conditions in all American educational institutions of higher rank. The same measure of enthusiasm and willingness to serve the country exists among the students of Milk College, Oakland, that is reported from Vassar. Moreover, it is not only the first excited response to a vague patriotic appeal that may be observed; the willingness to serve when called upon has specially distinguished the students of America and it persists.

PRO-GERMAN SUGGESTIONS.

The mystery that has always shrouded the motives of the Russian Council of Workers and Soldiers has not been cleared up to any appreciable extent by the announcement this week of the "peace conditions" which have been endorsed by this uncertain body. Germany could not have drafted peace terms more favorable to Germany than has this body of Russians. In the statement of the Petrograd council, with the exception of a formal reference to evacuation of and autonomy for Poland and Lithuania, Russia does not occupy a prominent place. But other parts of the earth draw considerable notice.

This council urges that the solution of Alsace-Lorraine be aimed at by a plebiscite. It asks that Belgium be restored her frontiers and be compensated from an international fund for the damage she has suffered. Serbia and Montenegro should have the same consideration. Rumania to be restored, with autonomy for Dubrudja. Autonomy is urged for the "Italian province of Austria" to be followed by a plebiscite. Restitution to Germany of all her colonies is demanded, as well as the re-establishment of Greece and Persia and the neutralization of the Suez and Panama canals.

One would not have to guess long as to who advised the Russian Council of Workers and Soldiers to plead for international compensation for Belgium; it was the power exclusively guilty of the ravage of Belgium. The same applies as to Serbia and Montenegro; Germany and Austria hate the thought of having to pay. Who wants the Dubrudja from Rumania but Bulgaria—Rumania's enemy and Germany's mercenary ally? And only a Hapsburg or a Hohenzollern agent would have the audacity to urge autonomy for the Italian provinces which Austria has seized. As to Persia and Greece, these nations will be restored without consultation with the peace conference. And it is no more difficult to imagine who inspired mention of the neutralization of the Panama canal than it is to guess who wants Germany's colonies restored.

Always regarded with a certain amount of suspicion as to its loyalty to Russia, the Council of Workers and Soldiers of Russia now has deliberately invited the charge of working in the interest of Germany, although such a charge may be unjust at this time. Perhaps the "peace terms" just promulgated is an expression of the council's defiance of Premier Kerensky.

In making up his new cabinet Kerensky openly challenged the fanatics which comprise the council to do their worst. He ignored their demand for the exclusion of the "bourgeois" from all participation in the government. The premier was wise enough to realize that the special training and economic resources of the "bourgeois" could not be disregarded in an honest effort to set up a stable government for Russia. Later the Council of Workers and Soldiers openly declared that it would not support the coalition government.

Therefore the latest "peace" pronouncement may be safely regarded as only a demonstration of Russian Bolshevism, exploited by the governments of the central powers with avidity in the hope that it may chance to be beneficial to their cause.

If it is true that Chancellor Michaelis of Germany has tendered his resignation, he is the spectacle of a drowning man having grasped at a straw and failed to find it. He conspired with Admiral von Capelle to charge Socialist members of the Reichstag with collusion in the naval mutinies at Wilhelmshaven, and he tried to get Dr. von Payer to accept the place of Dr. Hefferich, whom he planned to dismiss. Neither device worked, because the military junkers wanted a more reliable man than Michaelis in office, and the liberal members of the government could not trust Michaelis.

CLOTHING THE SOLDIERS.

Equipment of the first increment of the national army has been slow, but the results thus far have not justified the pessimistic predictions of folks who always look on the dark side. Secretary Baker is enabled to announce officially that nearly 13,000,000 articles of clothing and sleeping equipment have been provided already for the cantonments. In which today 431,380 men are assembled. The largest number of men in a single cantonment is 39,523, at Fort Funston, in Kansas, which is nearly its full quota. From this fact lately we have heard many complaints of a lack of equipment. The War Department is not prepared as yet to keep pace with all the requirements of the drafted men. There is still an inadequate supply of winter underclothing, and the weather is wintry at some of the camps. But deliveries are now making rapidly, and before the advent of real winter all the drafted men will be well supplied with heavy underwear and sleeping bags.

When we entered the war there were no reserve stocks in our manufacturing. Large foreign orders had not yet been completed. The creation of new industrial establishments was necessary. Moreover, before the drafted men could be supplied the expeditionary forces had to be fitted out, and vast quantities of clothing were required for the regular army and the National Guard contingents. Therefore, Secretary Baker is justified in his pride in the work that has been accomplished. The assembling in one draft of 87,000 men, examining and placing them, equipping and training them for modern war, was an undertaking without a precedent in our history. What has been done thus far is an assurance of complete success. So far as the first increment of the 1917 is concerned, American patriotism has been amply demonstrated, and the American capacity to overcome huge obstacles quickly has been proved again.—New York Sun.

NOTES and COMMENT

According to a report, the beefless day is taken to be the opportunity of the men who sell fish and fowl. It is difficult to dodge everybody who would grind an ax in this food conservation.

The assistant to the State food conservator says the fixing of the price of fish by the State market director is a joke. It really does not seem to be as serious as when Palladini was on the job, though the consumer fares no worse.

Undoubtedly it has been noticed that soldiers now are more trim and sleek than they have been at former mobilizations. Tidiness has been taught to an extent that has brought up the general appearance many degrees. What has helped more than anything is the federal prohibition of liquor selling to men in uniform. Federal troops come as near to deservng the appellation, "Army of gentlemen," as any that are facing the enemy.

"Roundabout," in the San Diego Union, pays this heartfelt tribute: "I have paid numerous tributes in this column to the army mule, and right here I am going to give him further praise. When a horse is shot in battle his mate snorts and plunges and becomes unmanageable, but when a mule's mate is shot he quietly waits for them to bring on another mule."

Those who have been trying to size up the Russians since they so hilariously deposed the czar have now to consider the news that thousands of them gathered before the monastery to which he has been exiled and prayed for his restoration to the throne. Can you beat it?

A food administrator has declared that food prices are higher in this country than in England. It has often appeared, and many times been asserted, that prices are given artificial boost here. This is evidence that such is the case. All along the line it seems to be considered by purveyors as the psychological time to lengthen out prices. Food administrators perform a useful act when they point this out, but they will increase their usefulness when they prevent it.

Preferential voting was urged upon law-makers as a measure intended to more accurately disclose the sentiment of a voting community, but from the way that political organizations warn against its exercise, urging that, but one direct candidate be favored, it has not been recognized that this end has been assured.

"Talk about the value of 'water power,'" observes the Redding Courier-Press, "look what a woman can accomplish with tears, for instance!"

The government is fixing the price of food in the East, but the fact that some of the standards of measurement are pecks and quarts will preclude the extension of the schedules to this region.

The King City Rustler puts the parson right: "A well known clergyman says wars will continue until the devil is chained. Why bless your soul, parson, that's just what we've started out to do now."

Julius Kahn has risen to the eminence of California's great representative. He is a fine example of the German born who has become a thorough and patriotic American, attested in deeds that leave no room for question.

"Remember the Antilles" is not quite as ready a slogan as "Remember the Maine," but it will do.

The Red Bluff People's Cause inquires in an observation which is calculated to explain why the price of bread does not come down: "The news of the rise in the price of flour reaches the bakers by telegraph, but news of a fall of flour seems to come along by messenger boy walking over the road."

SPIRIT OF THE STATE PRESS

Albany and Richmond did not get the naval base, but they are going to have their shores covered with industrial manufacturing establishments, which are about as good. So cheer up. God gave us a location which cannot be excelled by any other spot in the world, and, after all, that is about all there is to it. It will take a little time to occupy the ground with factories, but they are coming as rapidly as possible.—Richmond Record-Herald.

Editors of Imperial Valley newspapers were entertained last night by the management of La Vanguardia, the new Mexican newspaper, with a banquet at Mexicali. Dr. Reol, president of the La Vanguardia Company, presided at the banquet. Hector Gonzales, editor and manager of the paper, made a talk telling editors of the valley papers that he aims to work with them in the upbuilding of Imperial Valley. The secretary of state, representing Governor Cantu, also spoke. Among Imperial county papers represented were Imperial Valley Press, Calexico Chronicle and Holtville Tribune.—Holtville Tribune.

The first locomotive constructed on the Pacific coast in a quarter of a century recently made its maiden trip over the Southern Pacific lines, having hauled part of the draft contingent from Sacramento to Oakland and thence to Roseburg, Ore. In its first seventy-two hours of service the new engine covered 940 passenger miles. The locomotive was constructed in the Southern Pacific shops at Sacramento and is of the Pacific type.—Southern Pacific Bulletin.

Italian sardine fishermen at San Pedro are demanding a higher price for their fish delivered at the canneries. The men want $18 a ton. They are getting $12 a ton. It is said that the men of Monterey bay get $10 a ton for sardines.—Avalon Islander.

PRAISE FOR OAKLAND

To the Editor of The Tribune:

Such an enthusiastic demonstration and evidence of good will as was accorded the soldiers by the people of Oakland during the military parade there last Saturday, merits an expression of appreciation and gratitude from the men of the ranks.

Praise for Oakland is on the lips of every soldier, for we fully realize that it is seldom or never that we are accorded such a reception on our parades here in San Francisco, as was given us by the Oaklanders Saturday.

From the moment we stepped off the boat in Oakland, until we were homeward bound again, ours was indeed a procession of triumph. Judging from the crowds, all Oakland was there, and Oakland was happy. Men and women cheered and waved flags, and the entire crowd of the city was not in an indifferent and dutiful manner, but energetically—like 'they' meant it! Women threw flowers, college yell leaders stepped out and exhorted their teams to cheer for the different companies and organizations as they marched past, grocery stores and wholesale fruit houses brought out good things to eat, oranges, apples, grapes, watermelons, etc., with a generosity that fairly astonished us. One wholesale market must have given over one hundred melons to the boys from Fort Scott alone. We slashed of them open with bayonets and had "some feed." Apples and oranges were thrown out by the crate full.

Yes, Oakland was there and Oakland was happy, and indulgent, and generous. She has a style all her own and a mighty good style, too. There is a difference between two great cities on opposite sides of the bay, and the soldiers are saluting you, Oakland!

California Land Show Welcomes Oakland and East Bay

LAND SHOW WELCOMES EAST BAY

Big Exposition of Resources of California Devotes One Day to This Great Community

The California Land Show welcomes Oakland and the East Bay. Tomorrow will be the day set aside by the Land Show management for Oakland and the whole of the East Bay district.

It is for Oakland and the entire East Bay district to respond to this welcome and to visit what is pronounced by all exhibit experts as the best and most artistic show of the kind that has ever been given in California.

The big show covers more ground than a city block, and is under four enormous tents of the largest circus capacity, on the old Central Park side at the corner of Eighth and Market streets, San Francisco. Every tent is packed with individual and community exhibits, and thousands of dollars have been spent in making the most attractive display possible. The great Exposition of 1915 taught the people of California how to make exhibits and the most artistic taste and skill has been used in placing this miniature exposition before the people of California.

There is less of clap-trap and more of real educational exhibits about the California Land Show of 1917 than any show of the kind that has ever been attempted. The exhibits are of real worth.

The management of the California Land Show cordially welcomes the people of Oakland and the East Bay district to visit the show of 1917, and the consensus of opinion is that the show is better in every way than the justly famous California Land Show of 1913 which was held at the same place and under the same management.

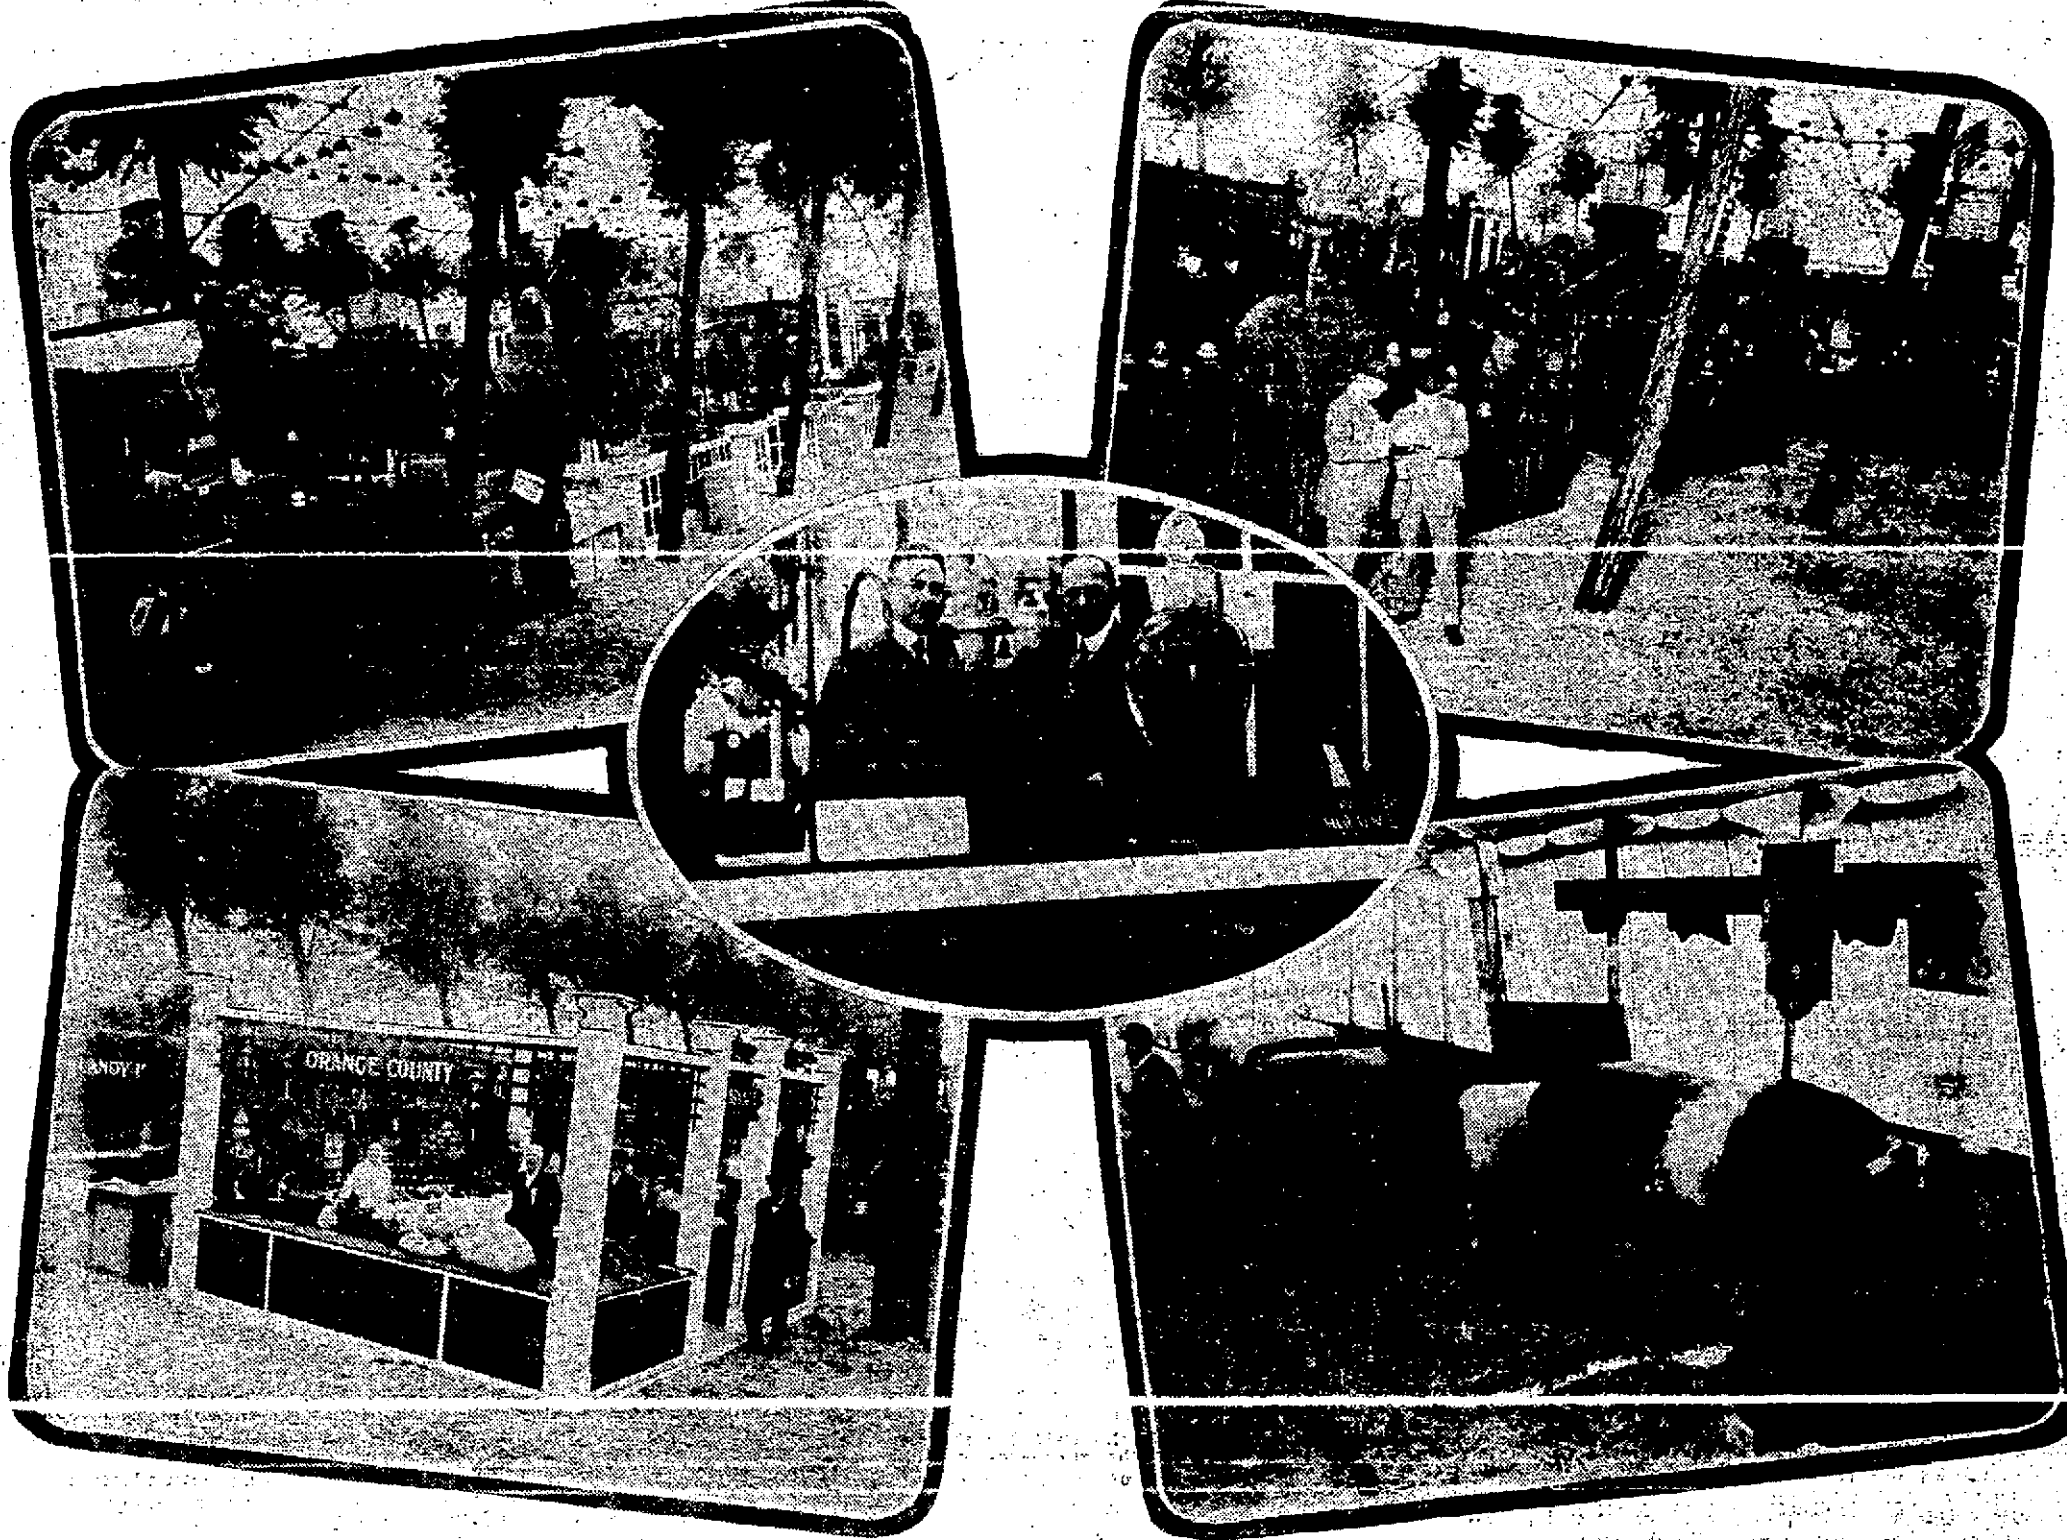

The welcome that is so cordially extended should be accepted in the same spirit.

This is the last week of the Land Show, for it closes Sunday evening. Oakland and the East Bay district day is tomorrow, and the attendance should be generous as befits the occasion.

By JEAN LOUGHBOROUGH.
Were the entire east from Florida to Maine, the middle west, the south and the north suddenly to discontinue producing, California could supply food sufficient for the whole United States.

This assertion is supported by facts

The California Land Show is proving the most successful as well as the most artistic show of its kind ever given in California. Upper right-hand corner—general view of the show with the Santa Clara County moving bear in the background. Upper right-hand corner—Luther Burbank exhibit at the main entrance. Lower left-hand corner—a Southern California exhibit. Lower right-hand corner—prize winning cattle from Jack London's ranch. Center—EDWARD H. BROWN, general manager of the California Land Show, and CHARLES L. WILSON of Southern California.

WHAT THE LAND SHOW STANDS FOR

Effect of Such a Display Upon Both the Individual Resident and the Community at Large

By EDWARD H. BROWN, General Manager of the California Land Show.

The Land Show, properly assembled with a generous display of the products of a State, county or community, has a tendency to create in our producers an ambition to be the producer of the very best product in their particular line.

Frequently growers will become lax in their producing methods and can only be awakened to the realization that they are antiquated in their methods by comparing their results with the results of others, and invariably through Land Shows modern machinery is adopted which is in itself a labor saver and aids materially in obtaining the greatest possible efficiency from the soil.

Counties possibly derive a greater benefit than any of the other participants, unless it should be the individual producer. The products of a given county are often questioned as to their quality in comparison with another county's products. This is all cared for and the doubt is either removed or affirmed by the various counties exhibiting their products, the auditors being the real producers and consumers, who invariably purchase their future products on the strength of the displays made by the various counties.

The manufacturers receive no small benefit. I do not know of a single instance where the manufacturers participating in the 1917 California Land Show did not receive a benefit far beyond their expectations. The expression from one of our participants was that if the Land Show is to be held in 1918 he would at this time sign up for floor space and make an adequate deposit for the same. This same expression is heard from the various counties, all of which indicate that they must have a benefit, a benefit they would not be enthusiastic over future participation.

We cannot overlook the moral influence of a display of the products of a State.

Boys and girls, view the various products with admiring eyes and wonder at the splendid stock and poultry exhibits, and are invariably inspired with the desire to become one of California's successful farmers, much of which is materialized and if the inspiration only leads to the wholesome thought of securing results from the cultivation of the soil the Land Show is worth while.

We have a veteran paper egg container to prove the value of proper packing. This container is a regular globe-trotter. It has traveled 5000 miles between Colusa and Potlatch carrying eggs each way and it is good yet for another journey.

A. L. Harrigan, former president of the San Francisco Real Estate Board, and chairman of the county participation committee, declares: "The bringing together of the city and county, and cementing their friendship and securing their co-operation has been the main object in the minds of the promoters. From the business standpoint of the counties it is only necessary to refer to any of the exhibitors to ascertain their ideas as to the benefits derived. We are informed by the county representatives that through inquiries prospective purchasers are far in advance of anything ever held here. The counties realize that the metropolis is the place to hold their show and not a few of them have requested that we make this an annual event following the Sacramento state fair."

and figures. One need but visit the California Land Show now in progress at Eighth and Market streets, San Francisco, for a visualized as well as statistical endorsement. Few persons know California as a whole. The native Californian less than the visitor. New York is more familiar with the beauty spots of this great western slope than the westerner.

It is with the former as well as the latter in mind that members of the San Francisco Real Estate Board with the aid and under general direction of Edward H. Brown, the well known California promoter of big events, undertook the big California Land Show. Financed it, and are successfully managing it. It was to bring within the reach of hundreds of thousands who never get outside their home city, the lesson of California's soil. It was designed as a great big exposition of California's resources for the benefit of thousands of visitors within San Francisco's hospitable gates who are weary of strife in the big cities and who have come to the west with a pining for land and for homes. The echo of what California reaches the cities of the Atlantic coast and without scarcely believing it, they make a pilgrimage when they can prove to themselves that a land of almost perpetual sunshine and flowers and abundance of everything really does exist. Many of them stay, few return to the lands of the east, only to come back again for good.

Constant demands have been made on the real estate board of San Francisco for some great big exhibition of what California produces. Persons glad to hear of all the wonders of this state but there has always been a desire to see something without the expenditure of time, money and energy.

The California Land Show has presented all that the visitor Californian or from out the state boundaries could desire to know. It has gone still further, it has demonstrated that the safest, most productive state in the union, and the least susceptible to food shortage whether the war continues or is called to a sudden halt, is California. It is a living, glowing demonstration, too, of the fact that California can produce enough to feed the whole country and to have some left over for the allies.

Crops, their output and their sale are the facts upon which this claim is based. Sacramento, for instance, and Yolo, too, grow together beans and wheat to feed all the states of the union and Canada as well. Santa Clara has sold her crop of prunes for two years ahead—and the next year's crop will be a tremendous one. Alameda county is so thorough in dairying and small farming as well as industries that she stands at the head of her class. Santa Cruz has already dried more than 70,000 tons of apples and they have all found their way with other dried fruits across the ocean for the "boys" at the front and there is plenty left for home use.

Colusa and Butte are wheat and rice producers; they have supplanted the Oriental rice with the home product. San Joaquin, a fertile valley where everything grows, has raised corn and grapes, and Mendocino and Sonoma apples in such abundance that it would make the uninitiated wonder. So it is along the line, abundance of everything, every place, Napa's grapes and wine, for instance. Los Angeles and Santa Barbara citrus fruits are all marvels.

Then there is another side. The California Land Show was designed primarily as a non-profit enterprise. But county representatives have been besieged by visitors who have visited the land show and despite the fact that nothing is on sale and that counties are given the privilege of showing what their district yields, more than a half a million dollars' worth of interior and city land have been sold, and fruits and nuts have been shipped to every part of the world.

"It is amazing," declares Robert C. Newell, president of the San Francisco Real Estate Board, "what the results already are in the land show. Persons have not merely asked for land information, they have almost compelled the representatives of the various counties and San Francisco to put them in touch with persons who could sell them land. The suggestion of what California produces seemed to have inspired a sudden desire for land possession and acting under this many transactions have been consummated."

Charles W. Fay, postmaster of San Francisco, decided to inaugurate a demonstration bureau of correct parcel post packing. The result has been that tons of fruit and nuts have been purchased and have been sent to eastern cities, Peru, Bogota, points in Mexico, with a large portion to England, Scotland and France.

"The parcel post is a most efficient method of conveying goods, perishable and otherwise," declared Mr. Fay today, "and I am highly gratified at the interest the land show visitors have shown in the demonstration. Our clerks have aided many of them in packing fruit and nut souvenirs and I feel assured that that put up in the newest and best method approved by Washington will reach their destination in the best of condition."

"We have sent fruit and nuts from the land show to all points of the earth and we have a veteran paper egg container to prove the value of proper packing. This container is a regular globe-trotter. It has traveled 5000 miles between Colusa and Potlatch carrying eggs each way and it is good yet for another journey."

A. L. Harrigan, former president of the San Francisco Real Estate Board, and chairman of the county participation committee, declares: "The bringing together of the city and county, and cementing their friendship and securing their co-operation has been the main object in the minds of the promoters. From the business standpoint of the counties it is only necessary to refer to any of the exhibitors to ascertain their ideas as to the benefits derived. We are informed by the county representatives that through inquiries prospective purchasers are far in advance of anything ever held here. The counties realize that the metropolis is the place to hold their show and not a few of them have requested that we make this an annual event following the Sacramento state fair."

Emil E. Kahn Says 'You Can't

and Demonstrates the Fact

By EMIL E. KAHN,
Director of the California Land Show.
The California Land Show held this year has proven that this event must be annual. The one held four years ago was experimental and the results of that first one are even noticeable today.

For some time the tendency throughout the United States has been "back to the farm," and the interest taken by the city business man in matters rural is continuous and spreading rapidly. Within the memory of most of us a line of demarcation existed between the city man, and the farmer. That line is eliminated. The interior and the city is becoming more conjoined. Figuratively, the city is touching elbows with the country and the country is calling the city by "its given name" instead of "calling it names." Common interests are increasing. The city man is becoming the thorough farmer and the farmer is becoming a thorough city
man. One of the causes of this change is the rapid increase of transit that prevails at the present time, but the main cause of this union of thoughts
and spirits is the result of education,
such education as is given at the California Land Show.

This matter was brought to my mind
most forcibly within the last few days.
Naturally my eyes and ears were open
while at the Land Show, and the intelligent and technical questions propounded to the different managers of the county exhibits by many of our local people was astonishing and proves the interests constantly going in matters related to the farm, the orchard, the vineyard, even in matters pertaining to stock. In former days a horse was a horse, a cow a cow,
a pig a pig, but now leading questions are asked concerning the different breeds,
the different classifications and the merits of these.

I was interrupted by a call recently from a gentleman who was born and has lived his entire life in San Francisco. He

MAKES DRIVE IN THE SALE OF NEW HOMES

Fred T. Wood, with offices in the Syndicate building, announces that he has sold $50,000 worth of homes in thirty days. The demand for high class homes and bungalows is greater than the supply now, especially for new houses, and Wood, as well as the other real estate dealers, urges that the builders start work immediately on new houses. Wood specializes in Lake District homes and bungalows, and is the exclusive agent for Lakewood Park, Crocker Tract and Crocker Terrace. He has been selling on an average of three and four houses,
ranging in value from $5000 to $7000, every week and expects the demand to continue during the balance of the year.
"Oakland enjoys the reputation of having more home owners in proportion to its population than any other city in the United States," said Wood today. "This is an enviable distinction and proves that Oakland has everything to make it worth while as a home city. One of the leading playground experts in the United States recently said that the Oakland playgrounds are the finest in the world.
These are only two of the reasons why the prospective buyer should think of Oakland when he thinks of his future home."

Oakland Gives Aid to Sacramento

Sacramento County has a most excellent exhibit at the Land Show, which is under the direction and management of that war horse of promotion work, James H. Devine. But Sacramento had to come to Oakland for aid and help in arranging its display, for "Jim" Devine, as all who know him call him, by this short name, called upon his daughter, Mrs. P. Nugent Harriman of Fruitvale to aid him with her taste in the decoration of the Sacramento display.

And so the work of James H. Devine supported by the taste of Mrs. P. Nugent Harriman has brought a lot of gold medals to Sacramento county in the Land
Show of 1917.

He stated that he had attended daily the Land Show going on at the present time, and was so much interested in what he saw that he made up his mind to buy a ranch in the next few days. In fact, he has already selected a practical man to manage it for him. He expects to become a practical farmer himself with a view of liquidating his interests in San Francisco and spending the remainder of his life
on this ranch.

A few years ago the San Francisco
Real Estate Board had luncheon at the Cliff House in San Francisco, which event was a thirty-odd prominent real estate brokers of Los Angeles were guests. The firm of "San Francisco, Los Angeles & Company" was organized. The purposes and aims of this organization were to work together and to disseminate a more friendly feeling. The maxim of this organization is "You can't saw wood with a hammer." Since that time a decided change has been noticeable over all the State, and it would now be appropriate to change the name of this firm to "California." What is good for one part of California is good for all of California.

As stated above, one of the causes that has brought about this change of mind
is our present highly developed system of rapid transit. Distances are eliminated.
The city man is becoming acquainted with the balance of the State, the country man jumps into his machine and is becoming acquainted with the city. We are closer neighbors than we have ever been and now every portion of California has all the balance of California on its visiting list.

TO HELP WORKERS TO FIND HOMES

There is a famine in homes in Oakland and Alameda county.

There are more people coming to Oakland and the east bay district than there are homes to accommodate them.

One of the chief concerns of the eastern side of San Francisco Bay is how to house the population that is coming to help build the new air fleet and naval units that Uncle Sam has entrusted to east bay factories to construct.

E. J. Henderson, one of the largest real estate operators in this booming east bay district, has undertaken to help relieve the famine in homes. Mr. Henderson is the owner of a large amount of choice east bay realty. It is located in almost all parts of this district, from Richmond through Berkeley, Oakland and even to San Leandro. An operator of the largest kind he has anything that can satisfy the wants of these home seekers,
from a choice Piedmont lot with an unsurpassed view, to a moderate price site
for a cosy bungalow where the owner can walk to his place of business and save carfare.

Mr. Henderson, after studying the real estate and home conditions of the east bay district has decided to offer one practical solution of the vexed home question. He will build for any responsible employee of the east bay industrial plant a home on any lot selected from his holdings, upon practically the terms that the buyer wants to propose. In other words, Mr. Henderson will finance any responsible worker in the construction of his own home.

With ample means at his command Mr.
Henderson will supply a lot to suit any purpose, build a house to suit the needs and convenience of any size family, and give the new owner his own time and his own terms of payment.

"Any proposition that is within reason will find me receptive," said Mr. Henderson.

Mr. Henderson knows that the industries that have located here have come to stay, and that more are coming. I am willing to help house who will keep the industries going. If a man wants to come to this side of the bay and work and live,
I am willing to help him. If he wants to stay I know that he will have employment for the rest of his life and I consider it a good investment for myself,
and for the community, for me to help him stay. All that I want to know is that the man wants to live here and is working and I'll help him find what he ought to have—a home. I will go to the extent of putting up my money to help him get that home and to give him just what he wants.

Mr. Henderson has offices in the First National Bank building in Oakland and has been actively connected with the development of Oakland for years.

KEY ROUTE JOINS LAKE DISTRICT

An announcement of great interest to thousands of San Franciscans who are looking forward to a home of their own and to commuters who are now renting in Oakland or Berkeley is that a new Key Route line has started operations and is now running into the heart of the famous Lake district of Oakland.

While many sections of the east bay district have in the past been served by the interurban lines of the Southern Pacific and Key Route, the hill slope sections lying to the north of Lake Merritt and the hither side of Piedmont have never had direct San Francisco transportation. Judging by Oakland's past experiences when interurban lines were built or extended, something like a boom in residential building is expected in the Lake district following the advent of the new Lakeshore line.

According to Wickham Havens, Incorporated, who are large operators in the Lake district, the new Key Route line penetrates into the heart of over 1000 acres, exclusively devoted to homes. In this great area there are already hundreds of homes ranging from mansions of millionaires to inexpensive but charming bungalows, each with its lawn and garden, while the district is dotted with the modern schools for which Oakland is famous. Extensive parks with tennis courts and bowling greens, supervised playgrounds with all sorts of apparatus and facilities for games, together with the opportunities afforded by Lake Merritt for canoeing, sailing and boating, make home life ideal. The new Lakeshore Key Route runs alongside of Lakeside Park
for nearly a mile and thence along Lake-shore avenue to the corner of Mandana.
Lake Merritt at this season of the year
is particularly interesting to the sightseer, as the surface is now covered with thousands and tens of thousands of wild ducks of all varieties, including canvas-backs and mallards, which are so tame
that they come out on the lawns of Lakeside Park and go to sleep with their heads under their wings within a few feet of the crowds who come to see this spectacle.

Wickham Havens, Incorporated, are not only featuring homesites in the new Lake district, but present an attractive offer
to build at cost for those seeking homes,
and also have a wide variety of new houses and bungalows which may be purchased on easy terms.

FINDS LOST GIRLS.

PORTLAND, Ore., Oct. 25.—Mrs. Agnes Shipply, after tracing her two small daughters, who disappeared with her husband from Boise Idaho, to this city, today ended her search when she found the girls in a day nursery. She will return with them and possibly with her husband, from whom she has been separated about a year.

ONE FAMILY LIVED FROM TWO ACRES

It is the small tract of one, two or three acres that is going to knock the high cost of living out by the time that the early crops begin to come in next spring. That is the solution of the H. C. of L. question that is offered by George J. Lawson of 1522 Broadway, and Mr. Lawson is ready to back his assertion with facts and figures.

Mr. Lawson, a little over a year ago,
sold two acres of land in the rolling Contra Costa foothill district. There was an acre of nice apples on the place that last year brought enough to pay a handsome interest on the entire investment and a considerable profit besides. On the other acre was established twenty five imported goats and 200 chickens, one pig and a family assortment of turkeys and ducks, and one horse that supplied the power necessary for the cultivation of the place and transportation. Between the apple trees and on the balance of the little property was raised enough milk maize and Egyptian corn to feed all of the live stock and to supply all of the vegetables and green supplies for the family. The pig is today worth his weight in gold, almost, and the chickens and turkeys and ducks are paying a handsome profit. The goats have become a most valuable asset and the increase from the flock is a big money maker for the family. The family is living from the produce of the two acres of intensive farming and making enough money to buy a small Liberty bond now and then.

"Others can do the same," says Mr.
Lawson. "This is only one case. I have a dozen others I can tell about."

Figures Tell a Big Story

These figures will make everybody think, the investor and also the man at home. Possibly they will make the man at home think as hard as the prospective investor, for the man at home sometimes overlooks what is going on about him in the closeness of his every-day perspective.

A census of fifty manufacturing institutions in the cities of Oakland, Alameda, Berkeley and Emeryville, most of them
new and every one of them increased in plant and number of employees during the present year, shows:

Amount of added investment in the shape of new construction between January 1, 1916, and September 1, 1917, $2,359,- 582.

Number of employees added in the same period of time, 9225.

Amount added to payroll monthly in the same period of time, $1,332,350.

Economy for the Farm Wins Prizes

Economy and efficiency are the two watchwords in these war times, and economy and efficiency have been reduced to concrete form by A. J. Russell of the Santa Fe Lumber Company in the Papee ensilage cutter and the Simplex silo. Both of these important adjuncts to the farm are on display at the California Land Show and both have attracted such attention from expert judges that first prizes have been awarded to each.

Those interested can inspect these two farm economy institutions at the booth at the Land Show or can address
A. J. Russell at the Santa Fe Lumber

Francisco. Mr. Russell will furnish strations.

VALMONT IS BARONIAL ESTATE

International troubles made it possible for the Valmont Club, the nearest and largest country club in California, to acquire the magnificent estate of Baron J. H. von Schroeder, at Santa Margarita, San Luis Obispo county. The 36000 acre farm, the stately mansion, all the furnishings, the castle tower, the art collections, and trophies, bass lakes, trout streams, water falls, mountain trails and grottoes, gardens and orchards—everything is now included in the club equipment.

Nearly $1,000,000 has been spent on this beauty spot. Where nature herself showered her profusion of forest and flowers, man has spent many years in arranging, landscaping, transplanting and building, until today there is no estate in California that compares with Valmont for natural beauty. None surpass it for landscape gardening and buildings.

Valmont is half way between Los Angeles and San Francisco, off the state highway, yet on it easily reached by auto or train on the Southern Pacific. Paso Robles, famous spa, is north. San Luis Obispo, famous mission city, is south. Morro beach is west a half hour ride and a great forest reserve is east.

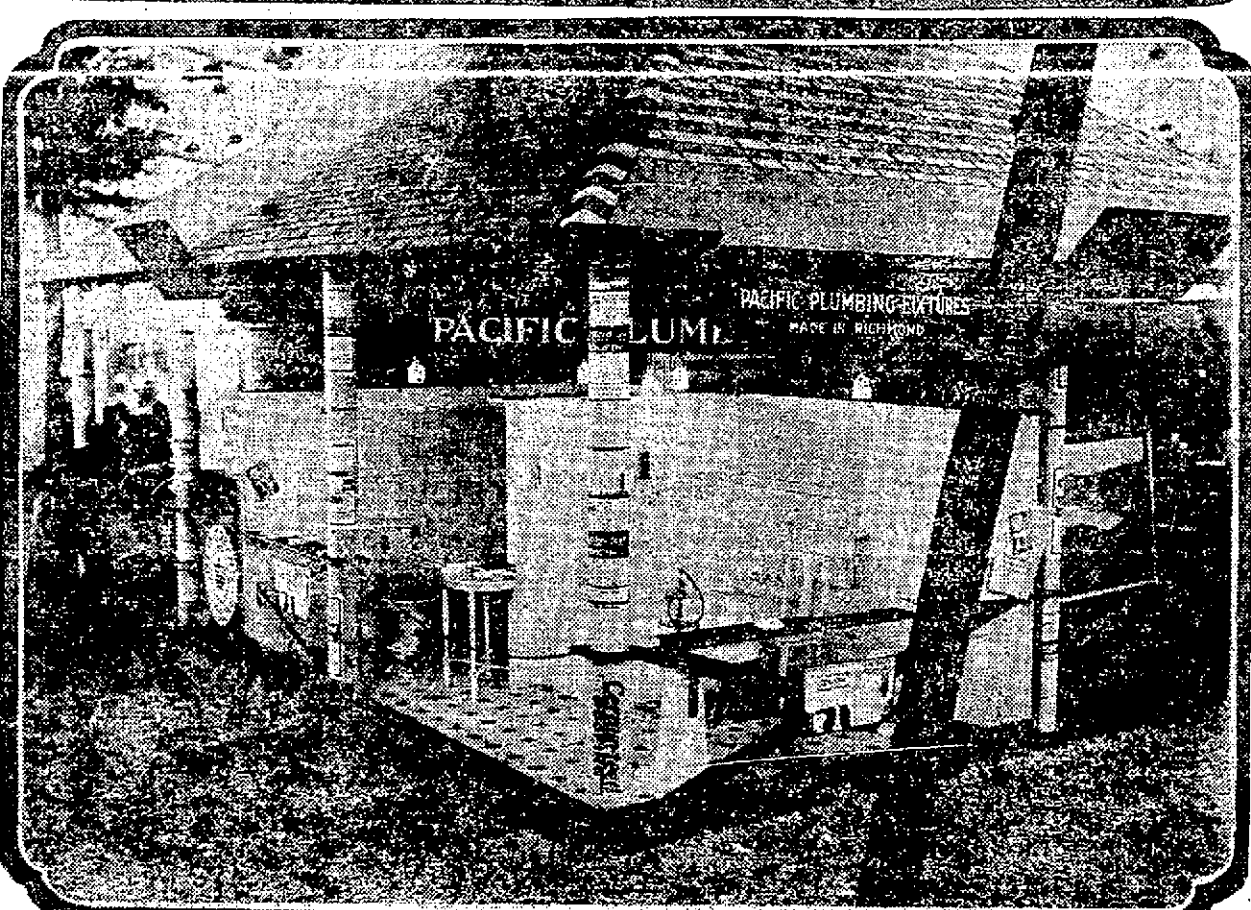

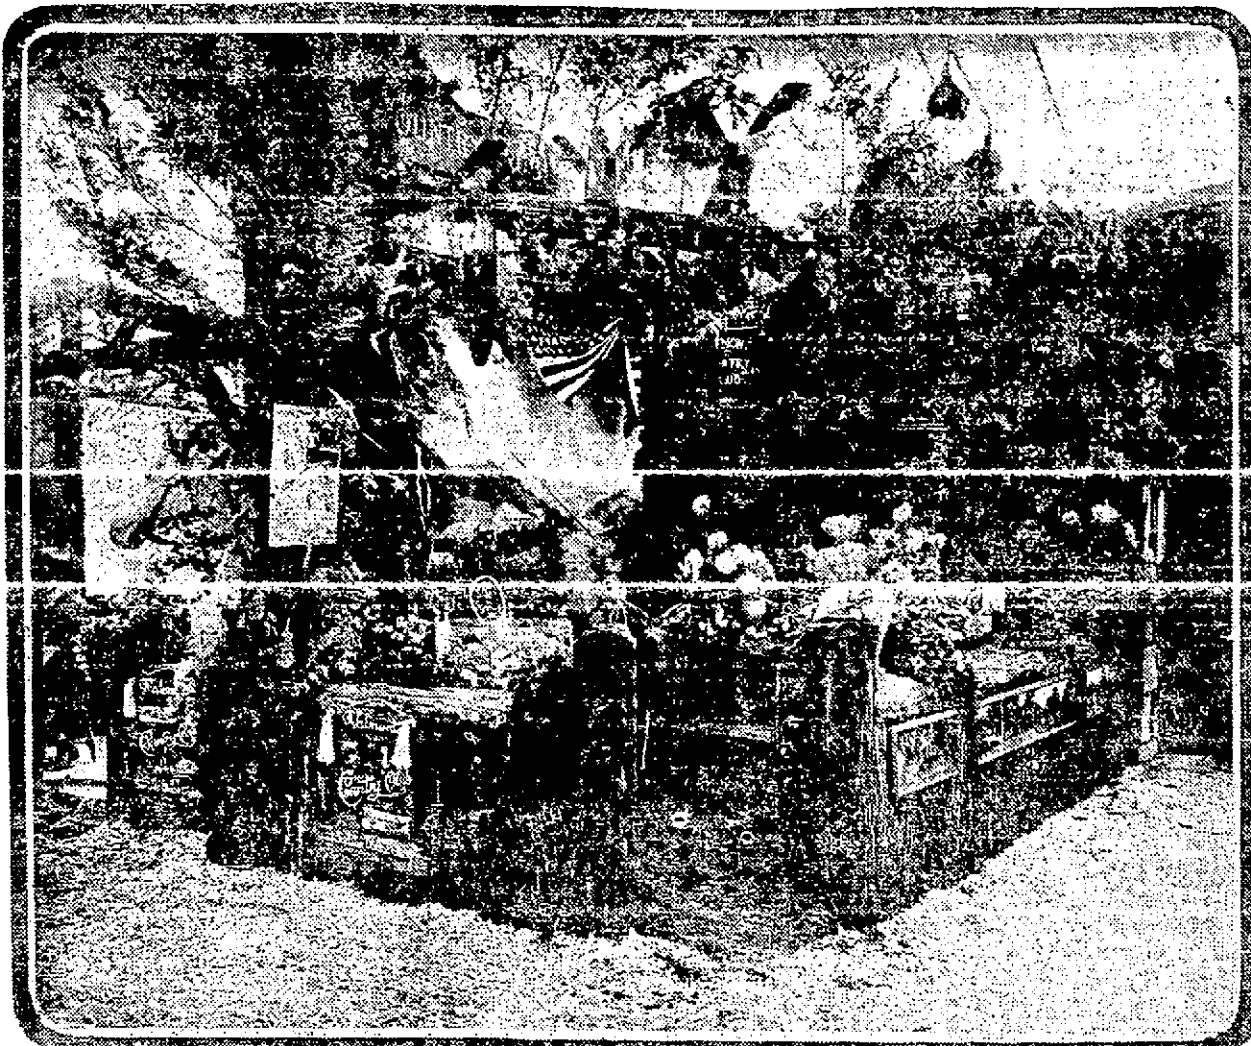

It would take a small book to describe the beauties of Valmont. All that a cultured man of wealth who had traveled over the whole world could do to make for himself a beauty spot and a great country estate, von Schroeder did on this estate. He brought tropic and semi-tropic plants from the known world. He built extensive hot houses and he planted and built until today, ivy clad walls, broad lawns, beautiful flower gardens, stately mansion and walks and drives cover the estate.

All this beauty is now available to members of the Valmont Country Club. What one millionaire only could enjoy is now open to everyone who wants to enjoy it. Simply by co-operation of a number of individuals is this possible.

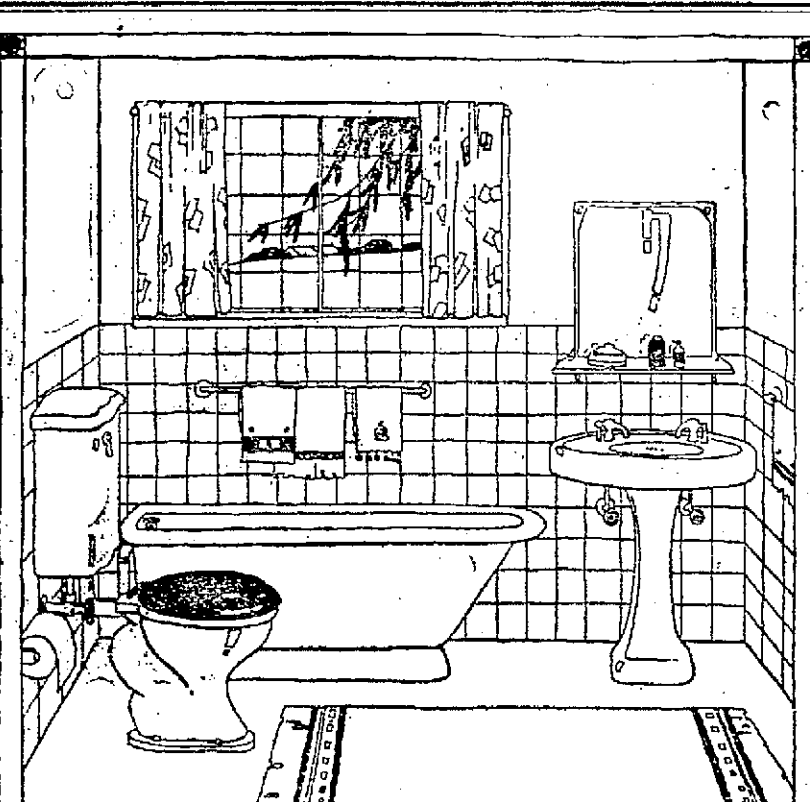

Valmont has now over 300 members. The charter is still open and the membership is growing very fast. As a place for rest and health Valmont is unsurpassed. Given a beautiful mansion filled with elegant furniture and fittings, with rare works of art and antiques, with bric-a-brac from all over the world, a huge house with dining-rooms, bedrooms, parlors and every modern convenience, given half a dozen smaller houses on the same scale of comfort, all located with an eye to the general landscape effect, with immense gardens and parks, ponds and walks, birds, flowers and grassy slopes, a forest of huge oaks and stately pines, with here and there a grass grown valley and California sunshine pouring over it all, Valmont offers more to the tired business man, the weary mother and the run-down children than any similar place on the Coast.

One may live in any one of the buildings and mansions, and have meals served from the club dining room. One may select a site and put up his own tent house, or even a bungalow, and he will never be asked to spend a cent in rent, interest or

POULTRY AND LIVE- STOCK A FEATURE

The California Land Show for 1917 was made as complete as possible and a live stock, poultry, pigeon, rabbit, waterfowl and game display was added. In these classes were entered some of the finest specimens to be collected in this state. In order that the fancy stock might not be worn out classes were exhibited at different times, and but few exhibits remained through the entire two weeks of the show.

One of the finest displays was from the farm of Jack London. Mrs. Charmion Kluge London sent a collection of her most choice cattle, and they attracted much attention, both from fanciers and from the old friends of the deceased author.

The California Pigeon and Fowl Stock Club of Oakland united with the San Francisco Poultry Association and took practical charge of the poultry, pigeon and rabbit shows. The pigeons were on display from October 13 to 17, the rabbits from October 18 to 23 and the poultry from October 24 to 28.

Poultry fanciers will find the poultry show at its best tomorrow and for the rest of the week.

Southern California Discovers the North

Southern California is participating in a northern land show for the first time in the history of the State.

Los Angeles county has decided that it wants to get on the map before a Northern California crowd, and so Los Angeles County has taken a large section in the main tent of the California Land Show and they have secured the services of Charlie Wilson to install his exhibit. Charlie Wilson is one of the best exhibit men that California has ever produced, and for years he has made Southern California famous at land, national and international shows all over the world. This year Charlie Wilson has made a highly artistic display and got a gold medal therefor.

But Orange county has also an exhibit at the show in charge of D. W. McDannald, and McDannald has walked away with something like 15 gold medals for variety of products. club has nothing to sell. His membership entitles any member to the free use of what ground he wants for a building of any kind in which to live with his family, or servant, for a period of twenty-five years.

Von Schroeder knew what he was doing when he picked out Valmont and after he had lavished nearly a million dollars on it, had to leave it. Now by clubbing together the people of California can enjoy it.

The club management has some wonderful plans and are carrying them out in a wonderful way. The California Development Board made a visit to Valmont a few weeks ago and was royally entertained. The central idea as explained at that time by Manager J. H. Babcock is to give the very highest social service, to benefit mankind, to make it possible to rest and regain health and to enjoy a well-earned rest without years of hard work in preparation for it. Valmont is in reach of the smallest purse and is worthy of the wealthiest patron and member.

DEATH THREAT CHARGED IN IRON STRIKE

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 25.—Labor's attitude toward the employer was discussed today before the Federal Mediation Board that is endeavoring to bring about a settlement between the shipbuilding and allied industries and their employees. The assertions of these testing for the employers was such as to develop acrimony at times, and once it became necessary for Chairman Moore of the board to put an end to the controversy.

James Christie, superintendent of the Alameda plant of the Union Iron Works, was the first witness and he started out by praising the three shift system, that virtually was agreed on by the employees yesterday. Christie said that the three shift system is in use in effect at the Union Iron Works plant and that it is proving very successful, the plant running twenty-four hours a day without the necessity of paying overtime or causing the men to work excessive hours.

DEATH THREAT.
It was at this stage of the proceedings that the relations between employers and employees came to the fore.

Christie said that he had personally been threatened with death in anonymous letters if he sent union men to work on non-union work, and knew of the employment of thugs by labor unions to beat up non-union men that he employed.

A heated controversy was stopped by Chairman Moore of the Mediation Board when J. S. Burton, who is representing the unions at the local hearing, jumping to his feet, said: "The employment of thugs by the employers is also a matter of record."

TELLS OF "PLOTS."
R. F. Moore, of the Moore & Scott yards, cited instances of plots by union labor men to create a shortage of labor in the shipyards and that he could not get work done because of union restrictions.

J. A. Coolidge, a member of the Mediation Board, suggested a distribution of labor to be maintained by the government where skilled artisans could be assembled and distributed to needed plants. This met with considerable approval from both the labor leaders and employers.

Charles Haines, president of the California Foundrymen's Association, said: "From a number of labor publications, I find quotations urging union labor men to stay away from San Francisco, there being a strike," and commented on this fact that in some of the cities there these organs were distributed, men were seeking employment while government work here was being held up by shortage of labor.

The hearing of both sides by the board was concluded today with the presentation of oral arguments by the members of the Iron Trades Council and written statements by members of the California Metal Trades Association. The board went into executive session and the decision is probable tomorrow afternoon unless the hearing should be reopened for the presentation of new arguments by either side.

GREAT STONE FACE PARK IS ACCEPTED

Great Stone Face Park, a diminutive parklet containing a little more than half an acre of land in the Thousand Oaks tract north of Berkeley, is now the official possession of the county of Alameda. The Board of Supervisors this morning having accepted the offer of the parcel made by a real estate firm. The acceptance of this park, which was originally brought up by Supervisor Fred Fox last May, was discussed at the last meeting of the board, and the members made a special trip to view the park last Monday afternoon.

Supervisor John Mullins is not convinced, however, that it is wise to establish a precedent of this kind.

"The really company simply desired to keep the stone face of the land which they no longer wished to have the trouble of caring for," he said. "It will only be a precedent for the unloading of other places of land upon the county. And with the acceptance of every park for this kind of land, the additional cost of maintenance."

DOCUMENTS BACK; THEFT GARB WITNESS NOT TRACED

Who took the copies of reports on the County Infirmary and the dairy from the desk of J. H. Thompson, secretary of the county institutions commission, on October 12, what was made of them, and who returned them to the desk, where they were found on the morning of October 19?

These are questions that are still unanswered, although Thompson presented a written statement to the Board of Supervisors this morning and spent a quarter of an hour in verbal comment thereon.

Edwin Stearns, secretary of the Development Commission, one of the board of the visitors who were in the building on the morning of the theft, and gave it as his opinion that the papers might have been misplaced in the confusion of morning.

Thompson declared that the papers taken were really of no importance, in as much as they were merely copies and extracts from the records.

DOCUMENTS REMOVED.
The documents which disappeared from the typewriter desk sometime between 9:30 and noon on Saturday morning, October 12, included the following:

A legal size Manila folder marked in pencil on the outside "Fair—Checks on Bookkeeper—Dairy" and containing statements prepared for the commission by the infirmary storeroomkeepers pertaining to the dairy, farm, chickens and piggy, and the expenses connected therewith during 1916; both pencil and typewritten copies of the infirmary storeroomkeeper's dairy statement mentioned; cards on which letters and numbers used in posting the infirmary books were explained; adding machine slips on which the computation showed the purchases of the infirmary during July and August—one of these slips was dropped near the counter of the Development Commission office.

Copies of the monthly statements of expenditures for the infirmary for the months of July and August.

Infirmary trial balances for July 1 and September 1.

A letter from the county farm advisor pertaining to the dairy.

MISSING FROM DESK.
"Mr. Stearns was in the office when I noted that the papers were missing," said Thompson. "With his assistance I immediately searched both sides of the desk, discovering that the following papers were missing from the commission office desk:

"Copy of the infirmary statement to the Auditor for June.

"Copies of the secretary's analysis of the dairy statement taken from the typewriter desk.

"The original and duplicate of an interdepartmental requisition enumerating supplies furnished the commission secretariat.

MYSTERY NOT SOLVED.
After relating how he notified Harrison S. Robinson of the theft and how he continued the search of his desk in the hope that the papers might have been misplaced, Thompson said:

"On Friday morning, October 19, I entered my office about 8:30 a. m. and found my desk drawn out a little from the corner in which it stood, and the door of the desk open. I looked into the rear of the right hand drawers standing ajar. The folder that was taken on the 12th was crammed into it, and was found to contain its original contents and the other papers put away taken with the exception of copies of the secretary's analysis of the dairy statement, a portion of the adding machine slips, and possibly some of the loose penciled memoranda."

Thompson declared that thumb print tests had been made of the documents, and that no positive results had been obtained.

After hearing Thompson's report and his explanation that he did not know who had taken the papers, the board of the Supervisors decided that the mystery is unsolved, and let it go at that.

Supervisors Vote
Money For Painting

"The Council of Slavonian Elders," a painting by the Russian artist, L. C. Reichert, will adorn the panel directly behind the chairman's rostrum in the new supervisory chambers, within a few days, the Board of Supervisors this morning having voted to expend $475 for its purchase. The painting, which is 110 by 63 inches, is one of the collection of Frank C. Havens, recently sold at auction from the art gallery in Piedmont Park.

Renewed protests of Max W. Koenig, owner of the building at Eighth and Broadway, in which the court of the Justice of the Peace of Oakland township has been located for twenty-five years, smashed into the story of the use of the court and the prohibition of floors, proved unavailing this morning. His request that the matter be reconsidered in favor of his proposal to renovate and improve the present quarters was met with the reply that the lease has already been signed for the new location.

The resignation of Nathan N. Ashley as interne physician at the Emergency Hospital, was accepted, and Dr. Charles A. Mackey appointed in his place at a compensation of $109 a month. The position of Axel O. E. Rasmussen, steward of the lounge in the detention hospital, was declared vacant.

At the request of the Alameda County Probation Committee, Dr. Sarah I. Shuey was officially named as physician to the girls in the Detention Home at a monthly salary of $30. Dr. Shuey has been engaged in this work for some time, but without official recognition.

In January, 1918, all the stock owned by the three men was transferred to Herbert F. Fickelmeier and two others as trustees. In May of that year these trustees resigned in favor of a trustee committee of five, which acted until January, 1918. It is alleged that the trustees were dominated by the original three men.

Following this, stocks, bonds and other securities of different subsidiary companies were transferred from one to the other, the complaint alleges, to the purpose of defeating the parent company, the United Properties, of all its remaining assets in order to defeat the plaintiffs, creditors of the company.

In one of the transfers and exchanges of securities, Smith, the complaint sets out, assigned to one of the companies, the Oakland Railway, unsecured, non-interest bearing debentures of the United Properties, payable in 1921, in the amount of $92,504.48. The debentures were in the form of notes in $1000 denominations.

NANCE O'NEIL BEREAVED.
LOS ANGELES, Oct. 25.—Mrs. William Desmond, wife of the actor and sister of Nance O'Neil, famous actress, died at the Desmond home in Hollywood today as the result of injuries sustained in a fall five years ago.

Dorothy Hoffman, 16 years old, living at 1716 Madison street, Oakland, was ordered into the custody of the San Francisco Juvenile Court with her brother, Karl, aged 11, by Police Judge Fitzpatrick today as they appeared with their father and mother to testify in defense of Robert Hoffman, 14, charged with the murder of a woman, the Psycho-Science "church" of Oakland.

Sinclair is charged with contributing to the delinquency of a minor, obtaining money by false pretenses by trick and device and vagrancy.

Detective Sergeant Burke and Detective George Richards identified Sinclair as an ex-convict who served four years of an eight-year sentence in San Quentin from 1912 to 1916, and was released after having served four years.

Some five years ago Sinclair swindled an Oakland street car conductor out of $1400. He was caught in the east and sentenced to eight years in San Quentin. He was released after having served four years.

HAWAIIANS ARE DRAWN FOR ARMY

HONOLULU, T. H., Oct. 25.—Today some 7000 men in the territory of Hawaii were being drawn under the selective draft for the Hawaiian birth certificate.

On July 31, 27,000 military eligible registered for the draft, and of this number it is expected about one fourth will be drawn, including a number of Japanese and Chinese.

The drawing was held at 3:30 o'clock this morning in the senate chamber of the capitol, formerly the palace of the old Hawaiian kings. Governor Pinkham drew the first number—blind-folded, and after that, Ray Scott, working in relays took the numbers from a big glass container. Each number was in a gelatine capsule.

The territory was divided into six districts corresponding to the six regular representative districts, two on the island of Oahu, two on the island of Hawaii and one on Maui and Kauai, Molokai the famous leper settlement being included under Maui.

EDISON MOVES
WASHINGTON, Oct. 25.—Thomas A. Edison has established headquarters in the White House. The inventor of the electric light bulb is working for some time upon devices to combat the submarine. These inventions now have reached a point where Edison finds it necessary to be in the closest communication with the naval experts to advise him.

PAY YOUR DEBTS WITH LIBERTY BONDS

How One Woman Made Her Debts Buy Her a Bond

By GRACE MACGOWAN COOKE.

BE SURE TO READ THIS

Did you say you'd like to buy a Liberty Bond but you hadn't any money, and you were in debt besides? Well, I know one woman that bought a $150 bond with her debts.

She hadn't any man person on earth belonging to her that could go to the front and save her country. She couldn't give time to Red Cross work because she had to work herself—red and cross part of the time, too, maybe—to keep a cute little curly wolf away from her door. She looked around for the thing she was to do for her country, and the only thing in sight was to buy a Bond. That wasn't in sight without a telescope, for she just was able to make ends meet and keep up the interest on the mortgage. It seemed to her if she could only buy a Bond she'd be willing to do without eating—yet that might interfere with living, so the idea had to be given up. She wanted to buy a Liberty Bond worse than ever Cinderella wanted to go to the Prince's ball. It got to be a fixed idea; it kept her awake nights. Finally in one of those long, black, sleepless hours she evolved a plan. Her debts should buy her Bond.

Next morning, like the good wife in Scripture, she rose while it was yet dark, got her regular work out of the way and went to see the man who held the mortgage on her home—the debtor whom she must pay, whether she could or not, whose quarterly interest account was the thing that seemed heretofore to make Bond buying impossible. Him she had got to pay, she had always paid, she could pay—so she asked him if she could do so with a Liberty Bond.

The fact that he instantly agreed to accept a Bond wasn't the end of her troubles; she had to get a year's interest together in three months—but she did it, and now she says she's ready for the new Liberty Loan, and is going to buy a Bond to keep for herself.

Since her success she has been doing missionary work—getting a friend who saw no way to buy a bond to use the rent money for one, after finding that her landlord would accept it, and would wait for the completion of the payments.

—And so you wanted to buy a Liberty Bond and couldn't see the way to do it? Well, look again. Where? Why, just where you've been looking—at your debts and obligations, at the thing you must and will pay, the thing you think is keeping you from buying a Bond—maybe that's right where your ability to purchase lies.

Have you any debts to meet in the near future of $50 or more?

Any insurance?

Any house rent?

Any mortgages or interest?

By the 15th of November, or before or after, will you be called upon to pay any bills for merchandise?

Do you expect to buy a diamond, or a home, or a lot, office supplies, clothing, drugs, or invest in property.

Are you going to spend money in amounts of $50 or more for ANYTHING?

Here's something you may not have known

You can pay your debts with Liberty Bonds just the same as you can pay them with greenbacks, currency, gold or money orders.

The following firms will accept your bonds the same as they'll accept your gold in payment for anything they have to sell when the purchase amounts to as much or more than the face value of the bond offered. If you owe a $65 payment on your home, or a $65 bill at your store, hand in a $50 bond and $15 in cash.

MAGGERT A BIG HELP.
Doc Crandall heaved the Angels to a 2-to-1 win over the Bees.

Crandall needed the assistance of Maggert to put over the win.

Blackgett to put over the win. A score of 10-0 scored both of the Angel runs; in the fourth frame he waked, stole second and being thrown out in stealing third, he knucked the ball out of Pinella's hands and then got on his feet again. He had to get home before Pinella could cover the ball.

Pinella did some daring base-running in the fourth and went all the way around the bases on his hit, a walk and two stolen outs. But Blackgett again came to the front in the sixth and saved the game. He hit Brenton for a double

BEE FANS GO HOME.

Salt Lake the Bees plied up two runs in the first two innings, and the fans said good-bye to the team for the season and went home. Two in the first frame were not so bad, but the second the Bees plied up runs for the frame. Two hit batters, and one walk put the first nine on base. Marion on the bases. Quinn led him and managed to stop the score after ten men had completed the ninth. For good measure the Bees added six more later in the game. The pitcher slowed up to let the Tigers get a little scoring for the short end of

Oakland players cannot count on being favorites for the Alameda County Athletic favorites for the Alameda County Athletic League championship, but they will give the champions a strenuous battle to meet them. The score chalked up against the University team was the largest ever made. In the league games, thirteen higher than the number made by Berkeley against the same team and one point more than Fremont made against University.

The Oakland boys showed a better defense against the strong looking team of the University fifteen than was shown by either Fremont or Berkeley. At least were blocked, while many others lost their full force through hasty delivery.

Smith, the little bulldog of the Oakland team actually outkicked Reed, a feat which has not been accomplished before this year.

Starting with the first try by Land, about five minutes after the game opened, the Oakland bunch distributed its scores evenly throughout the whole contest. The Oakland forwards showed great improvement of the game, opening up the play for the backfield and enabling the boys to get in some great passing rushes. The only try made in the forwards during the contest was by Captain land skipper took the ball through a loose field for about thirty-five yards and a

try. The rest of the time the Oakland forwards were playing the ball hard, but good opportunities came. The only other try that brought out an individual star was on the third score, when Thompson took the ball from the blind side of the scrum and went right through for a try.

Barnard, center three, and the two wings, La Rieu and Bittingham, each made two tries. Burpee, wing forward, Thompson, half, and Lindblad, first fiveback, made one try on the passing rushes while the major man on the single forward line, MacGregor, made two.

the first half, while six came in the second half. It can be seen from the even distribution of tries between the two halves and as to time that the Oakland boys played a pretty fast and consistent game, one that will trouble either Fremont or Berkeley, favorites for the championship. There was little fumbling in the backfield.

Linblad, who gave the game was playing first five for the Oaklanders. Although a freshman in high school, and playing his first year of rugby, Linblad is going great. Yesterday he came through in a position new to him, taking Hender-

The Lincoln Park field was far from as good as the Grove street grounds, on which the boys have been playing. The dust was terrific, and really worked a handicap on players of both sides. It may be that the league games will change back to the Grove street grounds, where the spectators will go kept in the grand stand. The condition of the bleachers at Grove street is not very good, as was

The Oakland team lined up as follows: Mills and MacGregor, front rank; Bloomheart, hook; Witter and Larkey, breaks; Oliver and Nook, rear rank; Burpee (Boucher), wing forward; Thompson, halfback; Lindbladt, first five; McDonald, second five; Barnard (Damianaker), center three; Le Rieu and Brittingham, wings; Smith (Eris) fullback.

Still Hanging On

Sallinas Jack Robinson still hangs on. He added another win to his long list at the Association club across the bay last night when he took a decision from young Joe Gans. The other bouts on the card resulted as follows:

Jimmy Ross beat Rex Morris and Al Walker knocked out Red Bresnan in the third. Larry Jones scored a K. O. on Cookey Rivers in the second. Bert Myers stopped Jimmy Thompson in the first round, calling a halt. Jack LeRoy was the victor over Frank Henley, while Marty Curran took the honors from
